Noteworthy Special for Thanksgiving Celebration

THERE has never been a Millinery Sale so important from the style and economic angle. Unseasonable weather has greatly changed merchandise conditions, and influenced a maker of High-Class Hats to reduce these desirable models now, rather than wait until the end of the season.

THESE HATS exploit combinations of rich velvets, Hatters' plush or gold and silver cloth, in a wondrous assortment of latest styles, including street and dressy affairs. The colors are the best that the season affords, also black. It is a great event for those who require a new Hat. SPECIALY PRICED THURSDAY

STATEMENT SHOWS LARGER REVENUE

Customs and Excise Total For October $25,772,311

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Canadian Press).—An increase of $6,434,777 in customs and excise revenue for the month of October, as compared with October, 1921, is shown by the monthly statement issued through the Department. The total revenue for the month this year was $25,772,311, as against $19,337,541 in October, 1921. Collections of excise taxes, amounting to $10,920,421, show an increase of $4,164,375 over October of last year. Customs import duties increased by $1,889,428, amounting to $11,417,614 for the month just closed. Excise duties totalled $3,331,485, an increase of $237,962 over last year, and sundry collections totalled $1,822,779, an increase of $2,392. The total customs and excise revenue collected for the seven months of the fiscal year amounted to $157,025,872, as compared with $134,973,727 during the same period last year, an increase of $22,052,145. The increase in excise taxes collected during the present fiscal year, as compared with last year is $14,297,103, and in customs' import duties $8,464,224. Thus far this year customs duties have been collected to the amount of $77,644,151, excise taxes to the value of $27,166,010, and excise duties $21,668,732, and sundry collections $649,977.

QUEBEC FISHERMEN IN NEED OF AID

Codfish Season a Failure;
Food Supplies a Problem

Quebec, Nov. 1.—Conditions in the northeastern part of the province are reported so bad this season owing to the failure of the codfish catch that unless immediate assistance is given, misery and starvation will result. It is understood that if conditions do not improve help will be sought from the Provincial Government in order to avert loss of life.

COAL SUPPLY IS SUBJECT OF STUDY

Scientists Will Report to Government of Canada

"Acute Area" Includes Manitoba and Ontario

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Canadian Press).—"Canada has sufficient coal to last 20,000 years," Dr. Charles Camsell, Deputy Minister of Mines and chairman of the special committee of Government scientists empowered to investigate the possibilities of adapting Canadian bituminous coal to furnace use as a means of relieving the situation in the acute coal area, informed the Canadian Press to-day.

"The acute coal area," he explained, stretched from the western boundary of the Province of Manitoba to Montreal, and it was within those limits that the demand for some solution was the most pressing. Dr. Camsell said the first report of his committee would be in the hands of Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, within a few weeks. Complete information as to Canada's coal fields was already in the hands of different Government departments, and this would be collected and arranged for the use of the committee.

Development Needed.

Already the search for measures which will make those living within the "acute coal area" less dependent on the United States anthracite producers has narrowed down to two broad lines of action. First, to develop bituminous deposits to such an extent as to make them generally available for furnace use and, secondly, through the importation of the best grades of Welsh anthracite during the Summer. That the people must not look for immediate relief, and that this relief would only come after the most careful study and preparation, and that the "acute coal area" would face the necessity of importing varying amounts of United States anthracite for some years to come, was Dr. Camsell's opinion. The anthracite coal supply in the United States, however, was gradually decreasing, and the time was coming when eastern Canadians would be compelled to use the domestic supply for heating.

AUTONOMY IN EDUCATION AFFAIRS

Provincial Ministers Do Not Endorse the National Bureau Plan

Toronto Conference Regarded As Justified

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Absolute provincial autonomy in matters of education was the sole principle which succeeded in securing the endorsement of the Provincial Ministers of Education and their deputations who yesterday afternoon concluded their two-day conference on educational matters at the Parkview Hotel.

The plan for a national bureau of education was not endorsed. The most it could secure was the promise that those present to endorse the project before their respective Governments. The other concerns, which were also considered and upon which no decisive action was taken, were connected with the publication of textbooks and with the use of motion picture films in the classroom.

In failing to endorse the project for a national bureau of education, the function of which would be to collect information concerning the various Canadian school systems and to investigate new educational movements, the conference adjourned without having accomplished the principal purpose for which it was called together. In spite of this, however, the delegates felt that the meeting had been justified if only as the forerunner of other similar conferences.

HISTORIC SITE CONTEST EXTENDED

Architects Have Till Nov. 15 to Submit Designs For Standard

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Authority has been granted to extend the closing date of the competition for designs for landmarks on historic sites from October 31 to November 15. This competition, which was organized by the Department of the Interior among the architects and architects of Canada, is for the purpose of securing a design for a suitable standard to which will be affixed the bronze tablet intended to mark the historic sites of Canada, which are judged by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, to be of national importance and worthy of preservation and commemoration.

For the competition $500 has been awarded, as follows: First prize, $250; second $150; third, $100.

HALIFAX LIBERALS TO NAME CANDIDATE

Halifax, Nov. 1.—The Halifax County Liberal Association will hold a convention November 1 for the purpose of naming a candidate to contest the Halifax Federal seat, made vacant by the recent death of Dr. Edward Blackadder.

Hon. R. E. Finn, Minister without portfolio in the Nova Scotia Government, is mentioned as the likely Liberal nominee.

GRAIN BY WATER TO MONTREAL

Montreal, Nov. 1.—Grain to a total of nearly 12,500,000 bushels, constituting an increase over the same month last year of over 4,000,000 bushels, was shipped down the Lachine Canal in October, according to figures compiled at the canal office. The most outstanding gain was in wheat, of which a total of 10,635,788 bushels was carried this month as against 3,932,625 in October, 1921.

Coal also showed a good increase.

LAPORTE'S PLAN WAS ONE ADOPTED

Six Non-European Members of International Labor Gov-

URGENT CHANGES IN C. N. R. SERVICE

People Between Victoria and Sooke Make Suggestions

Special to The Times . . .

Luxton—A public meeting was held at the Luxton Hall last night under the auspices of the Metochin Farmers' Institute to discuss the service of the gas car operating on the C.N.R. through the district. A. Hankin acted as chairman, the meeting being well attended by representatives of the district and other interested people, including the proprietors of the Metochin and district motor stage.

Mr. Higham spoke regarding an interview with the manager of the C.N.R. office in Victoria, who stated that the company was willing to try and meet the wishes of the people, and suggested that the people of the different districts get together and draw up a schedule which would come nearest to meeting the wishes of all concerned.

It was also stated that special rates would be quoted for carrying school children if a sufficient number should desire to attend school in the city.

Secretary E. J. Van der Byl then pointed out several important details that appeared to have been overlooked, and also submitted suggestions regarding the time schedule, and the starting of the car from Sooke instead of from Victoria as at present.

Co-operation

Mr. Van der Byl also pointed out that from Parson's Bridge to Sooke there were only two organizations that could handle the question, namely, the Metochin Farmers' Institute and the Sooke Harbor Development Association, and that the only way that these two associations, working in conjunction with the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, might obtain a satisfactory service was to present a resolution or resolutions to be drawn up, when the directors of the Institute would take the necessary steps and report back to a meeting at Metochin Hall on December 12.

It was pointed out also that the motor stage in comparison was a convenience in many other ways besides the carrying of passengers, namely, the many little commissions executed by the driver for persons who could not afford to be always running into town for small purchases, and it would be a loss to the district to lose the motor stage service.

W. L. Whitney-Griffiths also spoke on the subject and paid a tribute to service at present given by motor stage by Messrs. George Tripp and Walter Walsh, partners in the Metochin "Murphy" stage, and at the same time associated the running of the gas car as a help to the district's progress.

The movement to obtain a more satisfactory service was endorsed by T. Barclay, of Metochin.

Mr. Carter, of Luxton, also contributed to the discussion.

Suggestions

The following points were emphasized as being eminently necessary to obtain satisfaction and were adopted on motion of T. Barclay and Mr. Weber:

1. The car to start from Sooke.
2. To run into the city instead of to the Point Ellice Bridge.
3. A late train one night a week.
4. Week-end excursions.
5. Sunday trains, and a second car in case of a breakdown.

It was also decided on motion that the matter should be left with the Metochin Farmers' Institute to take steps immediately.

Your Corsets and Theirs—

For many years Warner's Rust Proof have been the largest selling corsets in the United States. For many years also they have been worn by discriminating women in all corners of the civilized world. At the outbreak of the War they were sold in 56 different countries or Dominions, and were made only in the United States.

To-day they are also made in Canada, cut from the same carefully designed patterns, and made to the same standards and specifications as the United States models. Corsets which are imported from other nations are offered to women of the Dominion without the costs of duty, ocean freight, etc.

You can, for instance, buy in Canada Warner Modeler which your friends in England gladly buy almost double the price—and Warner Corsets are doubly sold in England. You can buy comfortable corsets that represent the best word in style at prices which mean economy, and

THE PREMIER IS RIGHT.

The Premier deserves credit for his effort to have the debate on the Speech from the Throne kept within close limits. Such a limitation would be in line with the best British practice, in which it is recognized that as the Speech itself is merely a bare formality, the response should be also a formal affair. In Canada, however, the Speech from the Throne has long been the occasion for a prolonged, wearisome waste of wind and energy, in which the public has lost interest after the first few contributions, but few party leaders have had backbone enough to try to stop it. Nobody, of course, wants to curtail the right of free speech, but in this particular instance it is free license and not free speech that is involved. Under the rules of procedure in our Legislature there is plenty of opportunity for the members to exhaust their ideas, and to impress their constituents with their zeal for the electorate's welfare without the oratorical marathon which up to the present has immediately followed the opening of the House. Less talk and more performance is what the public wants from its Legislators and we are convinced that 90 per cent. of the electors would be highly pleased if the Premier's efforts to limit the opening bombardment had been successful.

VICTORIA WELCOMES H. M. C. S. PATRICIAN

Without some kind of battle raft in the sheltered waters of Esquimalt this port always resembles the proverbial beef without the proverbial mustard. Tradition has linked Vancouver Island with the visible symbols of British sea power. For this and other equally obvious reasons this immediate community once more welcomes H. M. C. S. Patrician.

Officers and men of the craft which reached port yesterday are not strangers in Victoria and they may be assured of a warmth of hospitality during their permanent sojourn in these waters every bit as cordial as that which it was our pleasure to extend on the occasion of their first visit some time ago. Congratulations to the Patrician's commander upon his appointment as officer in charge of the dockyard at Esquimalt are fitting at this time. He will discover a cordiality of relationship between the civic life of the community and the more exacting official functions that require his constant attention that should add pleasure to his important duties.

CLEARING THE AIR.

Before the end of the present week it would not be surprising if Mr. Lloyd George were to drop all suggestion of giving his own support and that of his followers to the new Premier and his Government on the slender plea that no material change of policy has been made apparent as a result of the ministerial crisis. The breach between the little Welshman and the forces led by Mr. Bonar Law is widening from day to day, and if Sir George Younger continues to crack the Tory whip there will be few constituencies previously earmarked for Lloyd-Georgians that will not have nominated an out and out Conservative candidate.

Mr. Bonar Law was selected by the die-hards of the Tory Party not because they believed him to be the one man who could lead the anti-Conservative to victory, but because he represents the type of Conservatism that would please a large section of the electorate opposed to the traditional policies of Toryism. It is not the first time he has been called upon to remove Conservative chestnuts from the political fire. After the retirement of Mr. Balfour as leader of his Party in the House, during the life of the Asquith regime, calm was restored between Tory factions, which were divided in their support of Austen Chamberlain and Walter Long, and a solution was found in the selection of the present Prime Minister. He is again the temporary solution of a difficulty.

On this and other counts there is ample room for the suggestion that Mr. Bonar Law will not be able to restrain the die-hards much longer. Whatever else the Conservatives may do they will stick fairly closely together. In this instance it is not so simple to retract an attitude which consented to the leadership of Mr. Lloyd-George. Had the recent crisis developed within a few months after the end of the war such platitudes as are now being employed could have been dispensed with without fear of wounding the most delicate political susceptibility. It is even more difficult at this stage because the new Government has merely borrowed the old policy of the Coalition.

Consequently recent history narrows down to Conservative impatience with Liberal leadership. For the time being the die-hards have achieved their main object. Lloyd-George has been deposed. How on earth can the Party responsible for his deposition come to terms with those who still believe in the little Welshman? It looks impossible. It supports the theory that before many days have gone there will be a good old party fight in progress with a Coalition possibly the result in the next House.

A SPLENDID FEAT.

Victoria owes a debt of gratitude to the Gyro Club for its magnificent work in stirring up a local appreciation of the value of the franchise. This year's new additions to the electoral roll of the city represent a splendid achievement and the campaign itself is a practical example of what can be accomplished by a thorough application of community spirit.

As a voters' list in itself this year's representation of the municipal "voice" easily outdistances anything in the past. It is now the duty of every eligible elector to take an interest in the civic campaign that will soon be launched—and use the vote. Individual responsibility, as far as exercising the franchise is concerned, ends only when the marked ballot is dropped into the box on polling day.

It can be said again that the selection of men and women for the various public offices in this municipality is a matter of supreme importance to every individual. The future of the community, its progress or its lethargy, is linked with its civic government to a very considerable degree. Upon the electors alone rests the responsibility for the choice of those who shall compose that government.

THE UNIVERSITY.

If the Province of British Columbia had not established a university there would be little point to the argument in support of developing the Government's property at Point Grey at this particular time. But it has an institution that is furnishing the educational requisites for more than one thousand students. How its functions have been discharged under handicaps which are well known is best understood by those who have been more intimately associated with its administration. Suffice it to say that no educational establishment of similar importance in any part of the world has been compelled to "rub along" under conditions peculiar to the University of B. C.

It is now a question of meeting the obvious demands of the institution or a confession of failure all round. There is only one course that can be pursued. The university should be built.

In his address to the Legislature yesterday afternoon Dr. K. C. MacDonald reminded the holders of the value of its holdings at Point Grey. The lands in question are worth anything from seven to ten millions of dollars and constitute a good deal more security than would be required to guarantee a bond issue sufficient to carry out the university programme. Surely the Legislature does not propose to withhold its sanction for this undertaking. If that should be its course this Province would be faced with the prospect of losing much of its most promising youth who studies in the higher realms of education are either about to begin or are already under way. This is unthinkable.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Daily Chronicle representative at Milan says that Italy's new Premier "stands for a definite and noisy anti-British policy." He says that Mussolini wants the Mediterranean to become an Italian lake with the British cleared out of Malta. This looks quite interesting in its way; but the Fascist leader will think and do things a little differently as Premier of Italy.

One or two more pronouncements of the type published by Sir George Younger the other day will bring out a large number of Lloyd-George Liberals who will be able to use "die-hard" tactics as a club for the political heads of Conservative candidates. It would be a weightier one than might be supposed.

When the High Commissioners from the various Dominions enter into the discussions of the Board of Management of the British Empire Exhibition a number of new angles will be developed. Some of them will be to the point and those influences which seem to think that Canada cannot supply timber for making fences in the exhibition grounds will get information in which they appear so sadly lacking.

It was only to be expected that the "smaller fry" in Mr. Bonar Law's cabinet would be strictly in keeping with the "quality" selected for the premier positions. Due regard has been paid to die-hard sentiment and the peerage. Not a single appointment produces the slightest tremor of a political thrill. Some of the new ministers will have considerable difficulty in getting the requisite number of votes on election day.

ITALIAN POLICY IS CO-OPERATION

His entrance into this country was dramatic. He was pursued over the frontier at Chiasso by Italian gendarmes who had a warrant for his arrest, but won his place for freedom by a scant hundred yards and the Swiss customs officers refused to surrender him.

Release Secured. Mussolini was about twenty years old. He crossed the St. Gothard Pass on foot, and upon his arrival in Lucerne was arrested as a vagabond without visible means of support. Political friends, however, went to his aid.

Later he entered the University of Lausanne, but as he was a revolutionary Socialist and wrote many fiery articles for the Swiss and Italian Socialist press, he was finally expelled from Switzerland after several police warnings which he refused to heed.

FOUGHT FOR ITALY IN GREAT WAR

Then he went to Trent, in the old Austrian Tyrol, whence he was also expelled in 1911. Upon the declaration of a general amnesty, he left Trent for Milan, where he founded the newspaper Popolo Italia. He aroused the hatred of the Socialists in the conduct of his paper, however, by his campaign in favor of Italy's entrance into the war on the side of the Entente, and later fought with the Italian forces at Monte Poro and at Carpo, where he was severely wounded. He left a number of small debts in this city and at Lausanne, which, upon his departure, he laughingly promised to pay when he should become a member of the Italian Government.

TAX RUSH FORCES CLERKS TO WORK FAR INTO NIGHT

Ratepayers Hurry at Last Minute to Pay City Bills

City Treasury clerks under Treasurer E. C. Smith, worked until one o'clock this morning straightening out their books after yesterday's last-minute rush to pay annual taxes. Mr. Smith was unable to-day even to guess at the amount of money collected in taxes this year. It will be several days before it is known what proportion of the taxes actually were paid. It is thought that the collection will be about seventy-five per cent. as last year.

Some people who arrived too late last night to pay their taxes were told to come this morning. Except in these few special cases, however, a penalty of eight per cent. of the total amount due was added to all unpaid taxes to-day.

Registration for the civic voters' list also stopped yesterday. There was a total enrollment of 1,798 as against 2,070 last year. This drop in enrollment was accounted for by the fact that there is not now in municipal affairs any issue like the Police Commission fight of last year. The heavy registration of householders this year was largely the result of the Gyro Club's Get-a-Vote campaign.

THREE INJURED HAVE SKULLS FRACTURED

Miss Miller, Miss Cummins and Clarence Burr, who were injured in an automobile accident on Quadra Street last night, are all suffering from fractured skulls. It was announced this afternoon by Drs. Bock and Lennox, after examining radiographs of the patients. Their condition is described as serious, but not necessarily dangerous. Jubilee Hospital authorities state that no patient has as yet attained permanent consciousness.

TURKISH LEADER SAYS DOOR OPEN TO FOREIGNERS

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Turkish Nationalist Assembly will never agree to maintain the capitulations, which were extra-territorial rights formerly accorded to foreigners. Mustafa Kemal Pasha, Turkish Nationalist leader, has informed the British correspondent of the Petit Parisien.

CUSTOMS REVENUE AT MONTREAL IN ONE DAY $1,029,312

Montreal, Nov. 1.—Local customs and duties for October totaled $8,452,171 and represented one of the biggest months' business in the history of the port of Montreal. For the first time on record receipts in one day, those of yesterday, exceeded $1,000,000, the figure being $1,029,312.70.

GOURAUD MEMBER OF THE FRENCH WAR COUNCIL

Paris, Nov. 1.—General H. J. E. Gouraud, French High Commissioner in Syria, has been nominated a member of the French Superior War Council to take the place made vacant by the death of General Maistre.

RED LANTERN ON ROAD REMOVED; MAN KILLED

Simcoe, Ont., Nov. 1.—A perverted sense of humor was the cause of the death of Dr. John Jacques, of Fisherville, and the narrow escape of his son from sharing the same fate last Sunday. At the inquest yesterday it was shown that some practical joker had removed a red light which was hung on a barrier near the scene of the accident.

MONTREAL HAS SCHOOL PROBLEM

Montreal, Nov. 1.—Local Protestant taxpayers are objecting to having to pay an extra two mills for the education of Jews, Syrians and other non-Protestant elements who are at present studying in Montreal's Anglican schools, and as a result of this dissatisfaction an appeal probably will be made to the Quebec Legislature.

BENTON TO COME BACK

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Negotiations are in progress which are expected to end in the return to the Cincinnati Nationals of John C. "Rube" Benton, star southpaw of the St. Paul American Association champions. It was with Cincinnati that Benton began his big league career twelve years ago.

ONTARIO-QUEBEC FRIENDSHIP URGED

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Stating that he came from the Province of Quebec with a message of peace, harmony and friendship, Hon. Rodolphe Monty, a Minister of the late Melchior Government, appealed for a better entente between Ontario and Quebec in an address here yesterday before the Conservative Business Men's Club of this city.

He prophesied that at the next general election the glory of the French-Canadian and the glory of the Conservative Party would be found shining together.

Premier Says Choice Has Not Been Made

Toronto, Nov. 1.—A special dispatch to The Toronto Star from Ottawa says:

"If the appointment of Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, as the first Canadian Minister at Washington has not yet been officially announced, there is good ground for the belief it has been made and will soon be announced to the public."

Premier's Statement. Ottawa, Nov. 1.—If the appointment has been made, I have heard nothing of it and know nothing of it," declared Premier King to-day when he was asked about the reported appointment of Sir Charles Fitzpatrick as Canadian Minister at Washington.

WHOLESALE GROCERS TO HOLD DANCE

The wholesale grocers and provision merchants of Victoria have made all arrangements for their annual dance to be held at the Alexandra ballroom on Friday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Dress will be informal.

Professor Ozard's orchestra will furnish the music, and the committee wishes to announce that the supper arrangements are in the hands of a very capable caterer. Tickets are being sold very quickly, and as only a limited number is on sale those who desire to attend should purchase their tickets without delay. These can be secured from any of the local travel-agents.

MAKE EFFORT FOR NURSES NATIONAL MEMORIAL SCHEME

Miss Morrison is making exceptional effort to ensure, by the kindness of the daily newspapers and the work of many friends, and through the favor of the principal stores in the city, that everyone in Victoria shall be aware of an opportunity to express their gratitude to the nursing sisters in tangible form, through the Armistice Ball on Nov. 6. This effort will be made for the National Memorial and the nursing sisters. Russell Ker is very busy arranging for extensive extra seating accommodation. General Ross has given permission for the wearing of military uniforms for the ball.

Colonel Urquhart has advised that Chief Justice Macdonald, Administrator, will be present as a patron of the occasion; and also that General Ross has signified his intention of being present. Colonel Robertson has information that the members of the Executive Council will be present, and will be at home in the Officers' Mess of the Fifth Regiment and in the Officers' Mess of the 16th Battalion. It is also anticipated that a majority of the members of the Legislature with their wives will welcome this opportunity to express their sympathy and accord with this undertaking, and, too, find pleasure in meeting under such pleasant auspices the citizens of Victoria.

D. W. GRIFFITH'S "ORPHANS" CAUSES FUROR IN PARIS

Notable Film Is Cut As It
Ruffled Feelings of Frenchmen
Some Scenes Cause Royalists
to Fight and Start Great
Row

Paris, Nov. 1.—Griffith's film "The Two Orphans," depicting French revolutionary scenes, is still running at the Max Linder Theatre, despite its wild reception, but a lot that ruffled the feelings of Frenchmen has been cut out.

When it was first shown to a Parisian audience there was a riot. The royalists shouted and threw everything within reach at the screen, and others tried to down the royalists with blasphemies and curses. Police reserves had to be called in to settle the dispute. The trouble arose because the film showed an unfavorable side of the life of the nobles before the Revolution. The nobles were portrayed as taking a distinct delight in robbing and torturing peasants.

The remainder of the crowd wanted to get their money's worth and see the film out. But before the end they were up, shouting with wild gesticulations that the plot was outrageous nonsense. That was when the film showed the Jacobins and guillotines, making the average Frenchman appear like a bloodthirsty Bolshevik.

The more serious element in Paris began to dissect Griffith's production and gave their verdict with thumbs turned down. They claimed French character was misrepresented from beginning to end, but what made them angry was that it was given an authentic French history. "How dare a foreigner take such liberties with our history?" they asked.

To begin with, they said the adaptation of Corneille and Denneville's story, "The Two Orphans," to movies took enough liberties in changing the period of the plot from the reign of Louis XV to the end of Louis XVI's time. This was done, they claimed, to show Lafayette and Danton, the Jacobins and the guillotine, and a lot of other things and people not in the original, to the American public.

Critics jumped on the production as ridiculous because one of the actors carries a modern umbrella; others because of what they considered an absurd anachronism in having one of the orphan sing a piece from "Mignon," which was written by Ambrose Thomas seventy years after the Revolution.

When the first production was shown to the press the royalist paper "L'Action Francaise" wrote it up in its customary amusing manner of criticism to all things non-royalist, but this time they seemed to have a large backing among the French public.

"Griffith," it said, "spent a million dollars to give us his idea of French history, which he evidently got in some primary school. He seems to believe that before 1789 the principal occupation of the French was to strangle to death; that the nobles kidnapped young girls from the streets to use them for their amusements; that, riding in their coaches, they took delight in crushing children under their wheels, and that they spent their nights in high jinks."

"In the country, it seems, they amused themselves by opening veins of the peasants and pouring molten lead into them. Griffith would have us believe nothing less than that! As for Louis XVI, he was naturally a tyrant, a fool and a contemptible man, who loved to have his people massacred by foreign troops."

"Griffith considers the Revolution as something sublime and childish, with strange complications. Liberty, justice, people's sovereignty, Bastille, guillotine, convention, all ring in his head like a lot of nuts in an empty sack. He mixes up and confounds things to such an extent that a cow could not find her heifer in the confusion. He shows the revolutionary tribunal as a group of old fatheads sitting on long wooden benches. The 14th of July had a miraculous effect on them, since they then on the 13th as a group of apoplectic skeletons and on the 14th as fat numskulls."

"Griffith's artistic procedure is as primitive as his ideas. To him no celebration at a chateau is complete without a cluster of poor men hung at the castle gate. And this is repeated with a fastidious monotony."

"What right has a stranger to come and claim that our ancestors were brutes, idiots and savages?"

"Would Harding's government let a film be shown in the states which showed Washington as a vicious and sadistic being, Jefferson as a filthy man, and that made sinister bandits?"

McCulloch Says
It Helped Him
From First

"I see no reason for withholding praise of an article that has real merit. That is why I am glad to recommend Tanlac, for it has helped me to gain twelve pounds and made me feel better than I have in many months. This clear-cut statement was made recently by David McCulloch, 43 New St., Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Mr. McCulloch holds a responsible position for the Western Canadian Lumber Co. Continuing he said: "I had been in very poor health four years, being generally run down, with no appetite to speak of, and my nerves were always more or less on edge. My strength and energy were at a very low ebb, and although I lost no time from work, I certainly was never feeling at all like myself out of the question. I was simply worn out all the time, and was considerably under normal weight."

"Friends of mine who had tried Tanlac urged me to take it. I began to pick up on the very first bottle, and now I have plenty of strength and energy, never seem to tire, and eat and sleep like a healthy man should. I have taken five bottles, and do not hesitate to pronounce Tanlac a fine medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good drug-gists.

of all the heroes of the war of independence."

Then follows a prophetic paragraph which turned out to be true, after the public had a chance to express themselves.

"The royalists will be quite rightly indignant when they see a past, shown and dragged through the mud, which they respect and love. The republicans will blush to see their ideas defended and exposed in a manner which makes them ridiculous. All will rise up in protest against the grotesque portrayal of France."

"As an American, Griffith had no right to jump on Louis XVI in this way. His compatriots owe something to this tyrant." If Louis XVI had not thrown the French army and navy against England the United States would not be a free nation. If the French treasury was empty during the last few years of the monarchist regime, it was because the tyrant did not demand immediate reimbursement from the young republic for the sums France spent to assure its independence.

Although Griffith was represented in two hemispheres, he was badly mistaken in this play, which is an accumulation of numberless savage absurdities. Every scene of his film is filled with mistakes and anachronisms. Louis XVI did not hold private interviews propped up on a throne in the middle of the Mirror Gallery. The walls of Paris did not resemble the great Wall of China. The revolutionary tribunal sat in a gorgeous hall, with gilded and sculptured ceiling, and not in a bare room. It was composed of three judges, a jury and a public prosecutor. When one writes history one should look the subject up. There are plenty of reference books to be found."

After this diatribe had been written every royalist in Paris went to see this film, and the riot resulted. Then for three days royalists invaded the theatre and stopped the performance with loud denunciations of this defamation of French history. Forty-four of them were arrested, but they were liberated the same day. Finally the owner of the film cut out all those parts which caused the popular outburst, so every one is satisfied. But the insult is still ranking in their minds.

LEADING AUTHORITY ON INDIAN BASKETRY

J. A. Teit, Well-known Here,
Collected for Great Institutions

As a specialist on a particular phase of Indian art, perhaps the foremost, and as a protagonist for the native races of this Province, the passing of J. A. Teit, of Spences Bridge, will leave a double gap which cannot be adequately filled. A message from his wife to-day announced that he had died on Monday at Merritt.

Mr. Teit had been fully conscious that he had not long to live; in fact for weeks he had been in a state of despair, but he recovered somewhat last Winter. When he was last in Victoria recently he told The Times he hoped to appear in a memoir he was working upon, but it is not yet known if Fate was kind in this limited wish.

Mr. Teit had been fully conscious of the fact that he was a collector of the native handicrafts, and for that reason wrote memoirs and collected specimens for the American Museum of Natural History, the Geological Survey of Canada, and the Smithsonian Institution, who appreciated his special knowledge, and even gave him a grant-in-aid on his work. He was a really keen specialist, as in fact a man must be to win a national reputation in a subject of that character.

The other side of his work was more controversial. He was a strong supporter of the cause of the Indian lands, and had used that knowledge to the great value of the associated tribes.

James A. Teit was born in the Shetland Islands in 1867, and came out as a boy to join an uncle, Mr. Spences Bridge, where he worked on the ranch in various capacities and on the ranges became well acquainted with the Indians of that section. He learned several of the native dialects, hunted with them, and mastered many of their arts and customs, and was in the early nineties recognized by Dr. Franz Boas, the well-known anthropologist, as well-qualified to carry on investigations among the Indians of the interior of B. C. on behalf of the American Museum of Natural History, which was financed by the late Morris K. Jesup, the president of that institution.

In addition to his literary qualifications Mr. Teit was a keen hunter of big game and maintained for many years a fine packhouse. He was well-known as an expert guide and conducted many successful expeditions into the upper Skeena River country with visitors who combined a love of sport with a thirst for information as to the fast-disappearing tribes.

Specimens of his collections may be seen in museums in New York, Chicago, Ottawa and the provincial museum here.

EMMANUEL BAPTIST.

The school room of the Emmanuel Baptist Church was the scene of a very merry gathering on Monday evening, when the Young People's Society entertained their friends and the Young People's Society of the year. Douglas Street Baptist Church at the Halloween social. The hall was very prettily decorated with lanterns of black and gold and colored streamers, and a large black cat, a white cat and a black cat were arranged around the walls. Several pretty costumes, as well as ghosts and other characters, were to be seen among the crowd. After the social was over, the evening was spent in games and dancing under the supervision of the president, A. J. Toke. The feature of the evening was the visit to the "Chamber of Horrors" which was directed to the witch's den to have a glimpse into the future. Mr. Farmer very successfully took the part of the witch and fortune-teller. Refreshments were served under the capable management of Mrs. Dorothy Waits and her assistants after which "Auld Lang Syne" was sung, and all departed to their various homes.

- That cultivates Musical Appreciation.
- That is Nationally Advertised and Nationally priced.
- And Most important—Costs No More than many regular Pianos.

The GULBRANSEN

The Player-Piano that has swept away the prejudice and popular misconception about Players. Its popularity has necessitated the largest player factory in the world, with a total capacity of 150 instruments daily—present output almost 100 daily and Two Months Behind in Deliveries.

Like most seemingly marvelous inventions, the basic principles of the Gulbransen are just SIMPLICITY. You simply play it like you would a Piano—use the loud and soft pedals for shading; vary the pressure on certain keys for accenting notes or chords, and play rapidly or slowly as the music requires—nothing more—so simple it seems surprising it was not done by others.

STRACHEY GAVE "TEA PARTIES" FOR NEWSPAPERMEN

London Editor Did Much to Mitigate Bad Effects of War Censorship

London, Nov. 1.—John St. Lee Strachey, the widely known editor and proprietor of the London Spectator, which is a clearly individualistic and distinguished English publication both in a literary and a political sense, has published an autobiography which is attracting considerable attention. It is a record of his singularly interesting life of a keenly observant, scholarly gentleman with wide interests and an extensive knowledge of men and affairs, animated by a kindly outlook upon life.

Mr. Strachey rendered signal public services to both his own country and America during the war, which deserved but has not received any recognition here. Being a distinguished man, it is certain that this has not troubled him.

Entirely of his own motion he brought together weekly at his charming house on Queen Anne's Gate the correspondents of American and other foreign newspapers, both special and resident. There they had an opportunity of meeting and exchanging views with England's leading public men on the absorbing topics of the day. This interchange was valuable to American and Canadian newspaper men and could have been hardly less so to the emnent persons whom Mr. Strachey invited to meet them. In his autobiography he gives an interesting account of his "tea parties," which formed an attractive interlude in a period of all too prevailing gloom.

These conversations were confidential and Strachey pays a high compliment to the fidelity with which the correspondents observed their part of the understanding.

"I knew, of course," he writes, "that it was not necessary to put my colleagues formally on their honor not to publish anything without definite leave. The first principle upon which an American and Canadian correspondent acts is that, though he expects frankness from the people he talks with, nothing will ever induce him to reveal what he has been told is confidential and not for publication. You can no more get stuff not meant for publication from an American correspondent than you can get the secrets to the confessional from a priest."

This was Mr. Strachey's experience in his dealings with American correspondents. At the time he began these gatherings the censorship was in full swing, official sources of information were practically closed and the correspondents had to rely upon their own painstaking efforts to gradually penetrate the veil of official reserve which the Government maintained.

Mr. Strachey's "tea parties" made the first opening in this ill-judged policy of reticence so injurious to the interests of this country for the first three years of the war. He rendered high service to his own country by his work in this connection and not less a signal one to the American correspondents in the performance of their very onerous duties.

FOUR MODELS

There are four models of the Gulbransen. The Player action is practically the same in all, the difference in quality being found in the materials and finish of the piano.

COMMUNITY MODEL—Just the size for a small home or apartment	$598
SUBURBAN MODEL—Full size, in all finishes	$695
COUNTRY SEAT MODEL—	$825
WHITE HOUSE MODEL—	$960

Home Instruction—

And, most important, this demonstration does not end at our store. With every Gulbransen is included a set of four remarkable "Instruction Rolls" that teach you at home. If you will practice conscientiously with these rolls for a short time, you will acquire absolute mastery of the player and then you will begin to experience the real thrill of self-expression in music, beside which no other sport in the world can compare.

Just Hear It Once

Printed claims always sound exaggerated. The only way to really appreciate the possibilities of this Super-Player is to see it, hear it, test it and compare it with anything you have heard before.

Not At All Expensive

Although the Gulbransen is believed by many to be the greatest Player made, it is also the least expensive. The very simplicity which has increased its effectiveness and durability has also made it cost less, so you can actually save money by getting a Gulbransen.

And, best of all, it is Nationally Priced! The same price all over Canada. You can send a child to purchase a Gulbransen just as you would a phonograph record, because it is One Price.

NEW LORD MAYOR TO FOSTER MUSIC

London, Nov. 1.—London's new Lord Mayor, Alderman Edward C. Moore, is an accountant by profession and a musician by taste, being a shining light in the musical societies, of which there are many in London. Under his Mayoralty a special feature will be made of music at the usual almost nightly entertainments at the Mansion House.

The new Mayor's father was long a member of the Corporation and he himself was made Chief of Bishops-gate Ward in 1912.

Mrs. Cora Lilley, of St. Louis, Mo., probably holds the record for the number of divorces granted to one woman, she having nine to her credit.

Picturesque Scene at Arts and Crafts Ball

The fancy dress ball held last evening at Alexandra House and arranged by members of the Island Arts and Crafts Society under the convener-ship of Mrs. Fred Pemberton, assisted by Miss J. Crease, Mrs. Sweeney, Miss Kitch, Miss Donagh, and Mr. McMillan, was a most pleasing spectacle. Guests in costumes of "seventy years ago," others of the early Victorian period, Bohemian dancers, a lady of Algers, Hawaiian dancers, a student of the Quartier Latin, pierrots and pierrettes, folies, a most wonderful black cat, in addition to many guests in various costumes mingled with those who were not in carnival attire and danced to the excellent music furnished by Heaton's orchestra.

In the dining room were arranged the tables for the "bridge" convener by Mrs. T. S. Gore, Mrs. B. S. Heisterman and Dr. Norman Taylor being the fortunate winners of the prizes. Among those playing bridge were Mrs. T. S. Gore, Mrs. B. S. Heisterman, Mrs. Wm. MASQUERADE BALL
PROVES SUCCESS

Caledonia Hall Is Filled by
Moose Members and Friends

The Caledonia Hall was filled to capacity last evening with friends and members of the Loyal Order of Moose for the occasion of their annual masquerade ball. The bizarre coloring of the numerous costumes added to the extensive Halloween decorations and the effective lighting of the hall in the colors of the order, blue, gold and green, made a brilliant setting for the event. The guests were truly cosmopolitan for there were representations "en masse" from England, Ireland, Scotland, United States, France, Japan, Belgium, Holland, China, Italy, Mexico, Hawaii, India, Spain, Turkey and Egypt.

Butterflies, black cats, white leghorn chickens, ghosts, pierrots and pierrettes, hobbos, dolls, and powder puffs were also there while the music gave additional "tone" to the event which was well guarded by a typical witch out of a fairy story.

No easy task was that of judging the various characters so well represented and sustained, but after much consideration the following were chosen: Ladies, best dress, Miss Small, as "Black and White"; best comic, Mrs. Ralph Harvey, as "Perfect Day"; best sustained, Mrs. Wm. Crothall, as "Spanish"; most original, Mrs. John Black, as a "Witch"; Gentlemen, best costume, Mr. Wm. Crothall, as "The Skeik"; best comic, Mr. W. F. Forgan, as "Jiggs"; best sustained, Mr. W. F. Carter, as a "Tramp" and the most original, Mr. S. McMillan, as the "Shipwrecked Mariner". The success of the dance was due to the work of the following members of the order: Mr. W. Heard, Mr. J. P. Bruce, Mr. H. F. Barber, Mr. J. Taylor, Mr. S. P. Parnell, Mr. Osborne, Mr. R. Gray, Mr. F. C. Susie, Mr. R. Huxtable, assisted by Mrs. Oliver, Mrs. Monk, Mrs. Spry, Mrs. Dorr, Mrs. Parnell and to the work of the members of the Moose orchestra, conducted by Mr. Penton, which furnished excellent music for the dancers.

The Halloween dance held by the St. Michael's Canadian Girls in Training.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL
MAKES IMPORTANT
CHANGES IN RULES

Provincial Body Reorganized
at Vancouver

Mrs. C. de V. Schofield Is Vice-President

The work of the Provincial Council of Women was reorganized at a meeting representative of four local councils of the province held at the Vancouver Board of Trade chambers on Monday afternoon and at which Mrs. S. D. Scott, provincial vice-president for British Columbia on the National Council, presided.

The drafting of a constitution occupied the attention of the meeting for a considerable length of time and resulted in part as follows: That the officers of the Provincial Council should consist of a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and corresponding secretary; that the membership should consist of the presidents, corresponding secretaries and three other delegates from all local councils, and that all other officers and members of committees of local councils should be allowed to attend provincial meetings and to take part in discussions; that meetings should be held at the call of the president.

The question of membership fees was discussed and the suggestion that each local council should contribute the sum of $1 per each affiliated society will be referred to the local councils.

Want Traveling Clinic.

The following resolution brought in by Mrs. J. D. Gilley, of New Westminster, will also be sent to the local councils: Resolved that the provincial government be asked to appoint a traveling psychiatric clinic which will make possible the mental examination of all school children in the province (except those in cities where such clinics already exist) who are pronounced backward or peculiar.

As provincial vice-president for British Columbia on the National Council, Mrs. S. D. Scott is president of the Provincial Council. Mrs. C. de V. Schofield, of Victoria, was appointed vice-president; Miss Peggy Sutherland, of Vancouver, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Paul Smith, of the Westminster local council, corresponding secretary.

The Victoria, Nanaimo, New Westminster and Vancouver local councils. Delegates included: Mrs. J. D. Gordon, Mrs. William Grant and Miss Sara E. Spencer, of Victoria; Mrs. J. S. Dunn, Nanaimo, and Mrs. J. D. Gilley, Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Forrester, of New Westminster.

A compromise.

The question of membership in the Provincial Council caused keen discussion and the resolution which finally met with unanimous approval was in the nature of a compromise between the National Council and the Provincial Council.

The Home Typist

When a cousin from a distant city came to visit the young home-keeper she stood for a minute looking with a puzzled face at a diminutive machine perched on a little table near her relative's desk.

"What in the world are you doing with that typewriter?" she ejaculated. "You're not trying to get the 'twelve-pound look' are you?"

"Far from it," retorted the home-keeper, "but I feel as if I had it just the same. At any rate, this little machine not only saves me money but makes it for me. Why, I actually bought it with the stories I've written on it."

"The newly-arrived cousin sat down hard. 'Why, we never dreamed you were an author,' she said. 'I'm not. I just save every little idea that pops into my head and every quaint little saying of the children, and send them off to magazines that pay a trifle for such items. Many women's magazines pay a dollar or so for household discoveries, you know, and other magazines have departments for the odd things youngsters say. Every few days I sit down at my tiny typewriter, tick off a few anecdotes or ways of doing things better around the house, and send them off. The machine increases their chances of acceptance, I think, because type is easily read and looks more business-like.'"

"I use it in other ways, too. I type my papers for the women's club and I always write out mail orders on the typewriter, because I am like a good many women who write more decoratively than legibly and the machine avoids any mistakes in figures or letters. Once in a while, too, I can help my husband by typing personal letters that he does not want to give to his stenographer, because they are about family affairs."

"Another thing, I'm going to have the children learn to use it. I believe that the ability to use a typewriter is often a stepping stone to the careers young people pick out for themselves, and if they learn young they will be proficient when they grow up. My little typewriter is my right-hand helper in many ways, I assure you."

"Inquest? Inquest?" Sabre's speech was thick. He knew it was thick. His tongue felt enormously too big for his mouth. He could not control it properly. He felt that he was swollen and out of his control.

"Inquest? Found dead? Inquest? Found dead? Goo! Goo! Goo! Tell me something! You come up to me in the street, and all the place going round and round, and you say to me, 'Found dead? Can't you find anything except 'Found dead? Can't you tell me what you mean, found dead? Eh? Can't you?'

The man said, "Now look here, sir. I say that's for the corner. Least say best. And least you say best, sir, if you understand me. Looks as if the young woman took poison. That's all I can say. Looks as if she took poison. Oxalic acid."

"Now, see here, sir. You've no call to say anything to me and I've told you. Is that your cab, sir? Because if so— They went to the cab.

In the morning, in the mortuary adjoining the corner's court, Sabre's mind suddenly and with shock most terrible made contact with the calamity it had pursued.

In the mortuary. . . When he arrived at a small crowd of persons assembled about the yard of the court. Some one said, "There he is!" Some one said, "That's him!" A kind of threatening murmur went up from the people. A general movement was made towards him. What was the matter? What were they up to? They stood in his way. He seemed to be wedged among a mass of dark and rather heavily faces-breathing close to his own. He was being pushed. He was caused to stagger. He said, "Look out, I've got a game leg." That threatening sort of murmur arose more loudly in answer to his words. Some one somewhere threw a piece of orange peel at some one. It almost hit his face. What was up? What were they all doing? A policeman and the corner's officer came shouldering through the press and helped him towards the court. He thought it was rather decent of them.

The policeman said, "You'd better get inside. They're a bit rough." At the door of the court Sabre looked across to where on the other side of the yard men were shuffling the out of a detached building. The coroner's officer said "Jury. They've been viewing the corpse."

"Corpse!" The rough word stabbed Sabre.

OUTLINE OF HISTORY

The Romance of Mother Earth

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT—45

The First Great Sea Adventures

Another great sea people were the Phoenicians. They were great seamen because they were great traders. Their colony of Carthage (founded before 800 B.C. by Tyre) became at last greater than any of the older Phoenician cities, but already before 400 B.C. both Sidon and Tyre had settlements upon the African coast.

Carthage was comparatively inaccessible to the Assyrian and Babylonian hosts, and, profiting greatly by the long siege of Tyre by Nebuchadnezzar II., became the greatest maritime power the world had hitherto seen. She claimed the western Mediterranean as her own, and seized every ship she could catch west of Sardinia.

Roman writers accuse her of great cruelties. She fought the Greeks for Sicily, and later (in the second century B.C.) she fought the Romans. Alexander the Great formed plans for her conquest; but he died, as we shall tell later, before he could carry them out.

A City of a Million.
At her zenith Carthage probably had the hitherto unheard-of population of a million. This population was largely industrial and her wovens were universally famous. As well as a coasting trade, she had a considerable land trade with central Africa, and the sold negro slaves, ivory, metals, precious stones and the like, to all the Mediterranean people; she worked Spanish copper mines, and her ships went out into the Atlantic and coasted along Portugal and France northward as far as the Cassiterides (the Scilly Islands, or Cornwall, in England) to get tin.

About 529 B.C. a certain Hanno made a voyage that is still one of the most notable in the world. This Hanno, if we may trust the Periplus of Hanno, the Greek translation of his account which still survives, followed the African coast southward from the Straits of Gibraltar as far as the confines of Liberia. He had sixty big ships, and his main task was to found or reinforce certain Carthaginian stations upon the Morocco coast. Then he pushed southward. He founded a settlement in the Rio de Oro (on Kerno or Horne Island), and sailed on past the Senegal River.

A Remarkable Voyage.
The voyagers passed on for seven days beyond the Gambia, and landed at last upon some island. This they left in a panic, because, although the day was silent with the silence of the tropical forests, at night they heard the sound of flutes, drums and gongs, and the sky was red with the blaze of bush fires. The coast country for the rest of the voyage was one blaze of fire, from the burning of the bush. Streams of fire ran down the hills into the sea, and at length a blaze arose so loftily that it touched the skies.

Three days further brought them to an island containing a lake (Sherbro Island). In this lake was another island (Macaulay Island), and on this were wild, hairy men and women, "whom the interpreters called gorilla." The Carthaginians, having caught some of the females of these "gorillas"—they were probably chimpanzees—turned back and eventually deposited the skins of their captives—who had proved impossibly violent guests to entertain on board ship—in the temple of Juno.

Sailing Around Africa.
A still more wonderful Phoenician sea voyage, long doubted, but now supported by some archaeological evidence, is related by Herodotus, who declares that the Pharaoh Necho of the XXVIth dynasty commissioned some Phoenicians to attempt the circumnavigation of Africa, and that starting from the Gulf of Suez southward, they did finally come back through the Mediterranean to the Nile delta. They took nearly three years to complete their voyage. Each year they landed, and sowed and harvested a crop of wheat before going on.

The great trading cities of the Phoenicians are the most striking of the early manifestations of the peculiar and characteristic gift of the Semitic peoples to mankind, trade and exchange. While the Semitic Phoenicians were spreading themselves upon the seas, another kindred Semitic people, the Arameans, whose occupation of Damascus we have already noted, were developing the caravan routes of the Arabian and Persian deserts, and becoming the chief trading people of western Asia.

The Semitic peoples, earlier civilized than the Aryan, have always shown, and still show, to-day, a far greater sense of quality and quantity in marketable goods than the latter; it is to their need of account keeping that the development of alphabetical writing is to be ascribed, and it is to them that most of the great advances in computation are due. Our modern numerals are Arabic; our arithmetic and algebra are essentially Semitic sciences.

A "Counting" People.
The Semitic peoples, we may point out here, are to this day counting peoples strong in their sense of equivalents and reparation. The moral teaching of the Hebrews was saturated by such ideas. "With what measure ye mete, the same shall be meted unto you." Other races and peoples have imagined diverse and fitful and marvelous gods, but it was the trading Semites who first began to think of God as a Righteous Dealer, whose promises were kept, who failed not the humblest creditor, and called to account every spurious act.

MORE RAIN BUT SUN STILL SHINES

Victoria in October Had Wet Weather With Fairly Even Temperature

Wet and cloudy with, however, a milder temperature than usual is the record of the month of October, according to an analysis of weather conditions issued by F. Napier Denison, superintendent of the meteorological observatory, Gonzales Hill. The mean temperature was 51.7, or one degree higher than in the corresponding period of last year. The maximum temperature was 67 degrees registered on October 3 while the low mark was set on October 29 at 39 degrees. The lowest temperature at ground level on the same date was 25 degrees. The total rainfall for the month was 3.10 inches, as compared to the average in other years of 2.73 inches. Rain fell during fifteen days. On the other hand, the sun did not desert the island, there being 124 hours and 24 minutes of sunshine, even this being 4 hours and 42 minutes below the average. There was a record of sunshine on twenty days during the month.

The total precipitation for the year to date is 13.75 inches, requiring 13.70 inches additional to complete the average annual rainfall to the end of December. The month of October was characterized by light winds.

POTATO FAIR PLANS TAKE FORM

Provincial Speakers Listed for Grand Forks Fair

The Provincial Potato Fair at Grand Forks, from November 27 to December 2, is expected by the Provincial Department of Agriculture to have considerable effect in improving the British Columbia potato crop, and it is with this end in view that the Department has organized the affair. It has been proven that this Province is ideally suited to the production of seed for other districts, and this business is the most paying side of the potato growing business. The Fair at Grand Forks will offer a long series of prizes, with special attention to the awards for certified seed. On November 30 the Fair will be open to the general public, and on that day a three-day series of addresses will commence. These lectures will deal with all aspects of potato culture, and will be by the following experts:

Thursday, November 30:
"Irrigation of Potatoes," R. H. Helmer, Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Farm, Summerland, B.C.; "The Root Vegetable Act as applied to Potatoes," R. G. L. Clarke, Dominion Fruit Inspector, Vancouver, B.C.; "Experimental Work with Potatoes," R. G. Newton, Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Farm, Invermere, B.C.; "The Necessity for Seed Legislation," G. M. Stewart, District Seed Inspector, Calgary, Alta.

Friday, December 1:
"Production, Value, and Uses of the Potato," Prof. P. A. Boving, Department of Agronomy, University of B.C.; "Fertilizers, Soils, and Rotations for Potatoes," J. B. Munro, Soil and Crop Instructor, Department of Agriculture, Victoria, B.C.; "The Experiences of a Practical Potato-grower," E. J. Hughes, Grand Forks, B.C.

Saturday, December 2:
"Potato-improvement Work in B.C.," C. Tice, Potato Specialist, Department of Agriculture, Victoria, B.C.; "Organization and Marketing," J. A. Grant, B.C. Markets Commissioner, Calgary, Alta.

Exclusive Fur-Trimmed Coats Fashioned From Superb Fabrics

Collars and sleeves appear to have been playing the most important part in the fur-trimmed coats for this season. Pockets in the more distinctive models are so inconspicuous that they might just as well have been excluded. The beautiful fabrics and wonderful fur trimmings lend to these models an irresistible charm, an inimitable richness and an air of individuality that is only enhanced by the smart tailoring.

Fabrics include velour, Normandy cloth, Bolivia, suedene, velvet and others; while the furs are mole, beaver, opossum, seal, beaverine and skunk; navy, mallard blue, black, fawn and brown are the colors, while prices are from $75.00 to $275.00.

are being thrown in. The Canadians are soon to be engaged. Our motor machine-gun brigade has already played a most gallant part, and once again covers itself with glory.

"Looking back with pride on the unbroken record of your glorious achievements, asking you to realize that to-day the fate of the British Empire hangs in the balance, I place my trust in the Canadian Corps, knowing that where Canadians are engaged there can be no giving way. Under the orders of your devoted officers in the coming battle you will advance or fall where you stand facing the enemy.

"To those who fall I say: 'You will not die, but step into immortality. Your mothers will not lament your fate, but will be proud to have borne such sons. Your names will be revered by your grateful country and God will take you unto Himself.'

"Canadians, in this fateful hour I command you and trust you to fight as you have fought, with all your strength, with all your determination, with all your tranquil courage. On many a hard fought field of battle you have overcome this enemy, and with God's help you shall achieve victory once more."

Canada's Finest Stockings for Children

IN all the world no finer wool is produced than that from Australian sheep. From no other source comes the soft silky lambs'-wool used in the making of "Little Darling" and "Little Daisy" stockings.

And by that token "Little Darling" and "Little Daisy" have been Canada's finest stockings for children for 20 years. Knit by an improved process all our own—to assure perfect fitting, long wearing and comfort qualities.

"Little Darling"

for kiddies up to seven. Soft, comfy, warm. Silken toe and heel.

"Little Daisy"

for children of all ages. Extra strength in toe and heel.

A pleasing range of dainty colours and black. Their quality has created tremendous sales and every good store carries them.

W. B. LANIGAN PROMOTED IN C.P.R. SERVICE

Becomes General Freight
Traffic Manager of Rail and Ocean Lines

Resident of Victoria Has Long
Railway Record

W. E. MacInnes, Vice-President Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, made public to-day the following changes in the freight traffic department of that line, effective November 15, 1922.

W. B. Lanigan, Freight Traffic Manager of the company's rail lines, assumes the duties of general freight traffic manager, all lines rail and ocean.

E. N. Todd, general foreign freight agent, becomes freight traffic manager, all lines.

W. M. Kirkpatrick, assistant freight traffic manager, becomes general freight agent, Atlantic and Pacific Ocean Lines.

George Stephens, who received his training with the Canadian Pacific Railway service and was for many years in the employ of that company, returns to the service in the capacity of assistant freight traffic manager of the company's West end lines, with headquarters at Winnipeg.

Rail and Ocean Traffic
Mr. Lanigan, who thus assumes the management of both rail and ocean traffic, is perhaps the best known freight man in Canada. He has been before the public eye on many occasions as representing the Canadian Pacific in freight rate arbitrations, both before the Board of Railway Commissioners and in Parliamentary inquiries.

His Career
Mr. Lanigan was born in Three Rivers, Que., in 1861, and is a graduate of St. Joseph's College at that place. He has been in the service of the Canadian Pacific since 1884, when he began his career as telegraph operator.

By 1900 he had become general freight agent of the Ontario division with headquarters at Toronto. In 1901 he was appointed general freight agent, Western lines, with headquarters at Winnipeg, and in 1908 became freight traffic manager of the Western lines. He was appointed freight traffic manager of all lines in 1918. Mr. Lanigan is a brother of the late George T. Lanigan, the brilliant newspaperman who, in conjunction with Lord Altholstan, formed The Montreal Star.

Edwin Todd
Edwin N. Todd, newly appointed freight manager, rail lines, joins the Canadian Pacific Railway staff in 1896 as a junior clerk in the foreign freight office in this city. He served there until 1903, when he was transferred to Toronto, returning to Montreal in 1909 as export freight agent. In 1911 he was appointed division freight agent and in 1915 general freight agent, with headquarters in Montreal.

In 1919 he became foreign freight agent, exports and imports.

W. M. Kirkpatrick
William Macpherson Kirkpatrick, who is perhaps as well known as the result of his war services as of his long connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway, joined that company in 1892 as an office boy. He was transferred to the freight department at Toronto in 1898 as a clerk and later returned to Montreal, but in 1903 he became general freight agent at Vancouver.

In 1906 he was appointed acting export freight agent at Montreal and in 1907 became general freight agent at St. John, N.B.

He went to Toronto as general freight agent and in 1911 assumed the same position in Montreal.

The same year he became assistant traffic manager at Montreal.

In 1915 he was commissioned to the 78th Battalion, Grenadier Guards, and sent abroad with the third contingent.

He rose to the rank of major, was awarded the Military Cross for conspicuous gallantry in action and was gazetted as having made two trips to the front line under very heavy shell fire and obtaining most valuable information.

At the end of the war he was appointed assistant freight traffic manager of Western lines at Winnipeg.

George Stephens
George Stephens, who leaves the Canadian National organization to join the Canadian Pacific, is one of Canada's outstanding railwaymen.

Mr. Stephens began his career as a messenger in the Canadian Pacific foreign freight department, where he rose to the position of export clerk.

In 1899 he was appointed chief clerk to the assistant general freight agent at Winnipeg.

He later became traveling freight agent at Winnipeg and in 1901 was appointed contracting freight agent at Nelson, B.C.

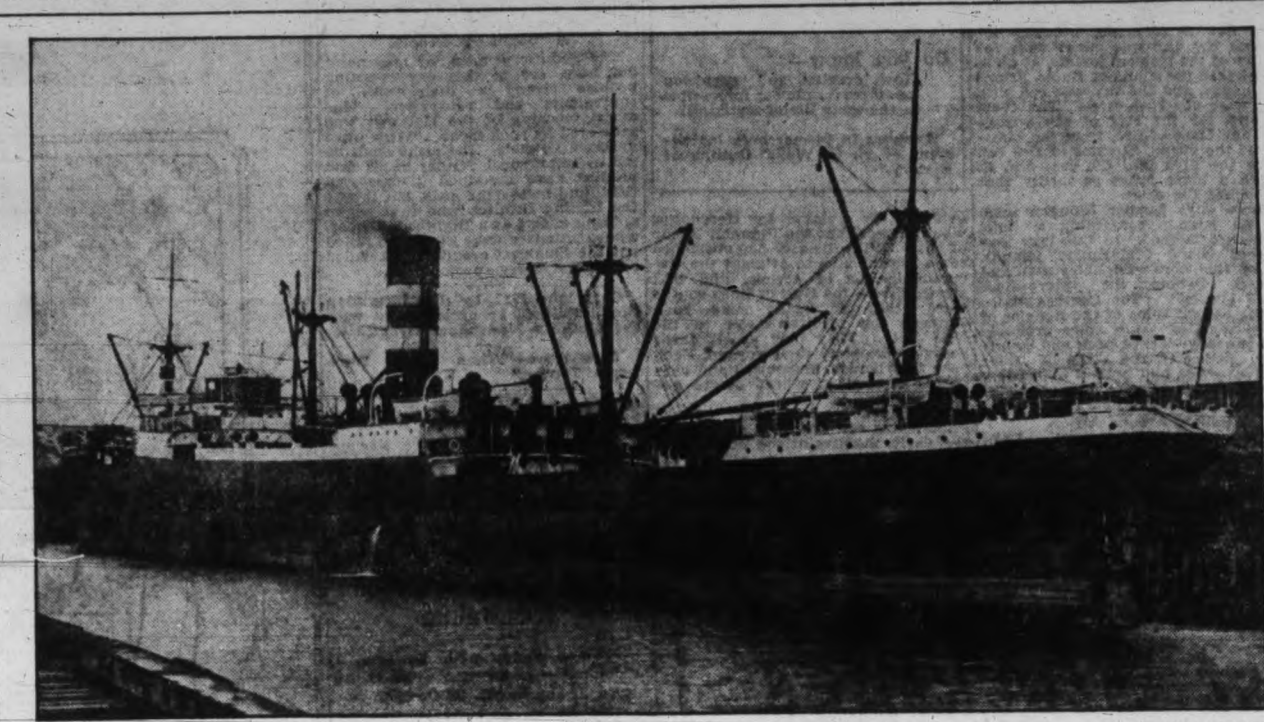

Mr. Stephens resigned in June of the same year to take a position as chief clerk to the freight traffic manager of the Canadian Northern at Winnipeg, from which position he rose to be general freight agent and later assistant freight traffic manager.

He finally went to Toronto as freight traffic manager of the Canadian Northern, which position he leaves to join the Canadian Pacific.

ADMIRAL COAST BOATS
The Admiral Schley and the Dorothy Alexander will both leave for San Francisco during the week-end.

News from the Ocean Lanes

FINE TYPE OF CARRIER UNDER HARRISON HOUSEFLAG

The Astronomer was in port here last week from the United Kingdom in the service of the Harrison Direct Line. She is due at Seattle on Sunday from Vancouver via Union Bay, to load for the homeward voyage. The steamship Logician, which is following the Astronomer in the company's service to this Coast, and is due here next month, will have the distinction of being the first Harrison ship to load at North Pacific ports for Manchester, Eng.

CREW OF FRENCH VESSEL RESCUED BY GERMAN SHIP

L'Orient, France, Nov. 1.—The crew of the French sailing ship Corsaire has been brought here rescued by the German liner Hugo Stinnes, off the island of Ushant.

The Corsaire was in sore straits during a recent storm, and even lost her lifeboat, smashed by the high waves when the Hugo Stinnes came up to the rescue. It was one of the worst storms on record.

The Admiral Schley will leave Victoria on Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, while the Dorothy Alexander will leave for San Francisco on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

SCHOONER HAD ROUGH PASSAGE

Alert Was Steered Four Thousand Miles By Jury Rudder

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—The schooner Alert, arriving here 111 days from Faisi, South Sea Islands, completed one of the roughest trips in her history, according to Captain David McDonald. On the homeward trip the vessel ran into a typhoon west of Honolulu. The jib boom was carried away, several sails were lost and the rudder broken. The schooner weathered the typhoon. After the storm the vessel proceeded 4,000 miles with a jury rudder before the steering gear was put into shape. The Alert brought 657 tons of copra to this port.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company to-day sent out the new sailing schedule of the passenger and freight service on Eastbound trips.

The steamer Santa Paula sails for New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk, on November 5; the Columbian, for New York and Baltimore, November 23; the Santa Olivia, for New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk, December 11; the Venezuela, for New York and Baltimore, December 16; the Santa Maria, for New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk, January 6; the Ecuador, for New York and Baltimore, January 8, and the Columbia for the same ports, January 31.

On completing the discharge of her cargo the tender cleared for Naden Harbor.

The whaling fleet now moored at Point Ellice will be kept in trim during the winter and the machinery of the little vessels will be thoroughly overhauled in readiness for next season's work.

Nearly two hundred whales were taken during the short four-month season this year with but four vessels in commission and a fifth for part of the time. On the whole the season's work was satisfactory. The whaling season next year will open early in May, when it is expected that the entire fleet of eight vessels will be sent out to hunt the whale.

CRUISER CAPETOWN IS NEARING PORT

The British light cruiser Capetown, detached from the West Indies squadron to make the annual North Pacific cruise, is bound up the Coast from Monterey, Cal., at an easy speed and is scheduled to reach Esquimalt to-morrow. The cruiser is speedy and could make port to-night, but navy yard officers early this afternoon were of the opinion that it would not put in an appearance before Thursday morning.

H.M.S. Capetown, Capt. Edward R. Jones, R.N., will remain at Esquimalt ten days, and the public will be given an opportunity to inspect the British warcraft, which was commissioned early this year. The Capetown will leave here November 13 for Vancouver.

LIQUOR BAN NOT TO BE ENFORCED ON FOREIGN SHIPS

No seizure will be made of liquors carried by foreign vessels entering American territorial waters under the recent Daugherty edict until further notice, providing such liquors are sealed and remain sealed while the ships remain in American territorial waters.

Seals may only be broken to supply liquor for the use of the ship's officers and crew. The covering order issued by the United States Secretary of the Treasury and received at the American Consulate here to-day from Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes, reads as follows:

"Under date of October 25, 1922, an order was issued by the Secretary of the Treasury containing in effect until further notice the present Treasury Department regulations governing the bringing of liquors into American territorial waters by foreign vessels. Under this regulation both cargo and sea stores of liquor are permitted to be brought into territorial waters of the United States, cargo liquor to be sealed and to remain sealed while within such waters; sea stores to be sealed on entering and to remain sealed unless opened for the withdrawal therefrom of liquors for the use of the ship's officers and crew only. All sales and service whatever to passengers is absolutely prohibited.

STEARNS NORTH FOR NADEN HARBOR CREW

Whaling Tender Gray Leaves to Close Up Last of Coast Stations

To bring down the station crew and the balance of the season's products, the whaling tender Gray, Capt. William Hillington, of the Consolidated Whaling Corporation, Ltd., left port last night for Naden Harbor, Queen Charlotte Islands. All the steam whalers are now back at Point Ellice and the company is now closing up the stations for the season. The station at Kyquot, west coast of Vancouver Island, already has been closed.

The Gray was in port yesterday morning with whale products from Kyquot and 70 tons of herring from Barkley Sound.

On completing the discharge of her cargo the tender cleared for Naden Harbor.

The whaling fleet now moored at Point Ellice will be kept in trim during the winter and the machinery of the little vessels will be thoroughly overhauled in readiness for next season's work.

Nearly two hundred whales were taken during the short four-month season this year with but four vessels in commission and a fifth for part of the time. On the whole the season's work was satisfactory. The whaling season next year will open early in May, when it is expected that the entire fleet of eight vessels will be sent out to hunt the whale.

BROUGHT SALMON FROM NITINAT

Captain MacFarlane arrived in town to-day after making a successful trip from Nitinat with a scow of salmon consigned to the Lummi Bay packers. He experienced some difficulty in getting past the breakers on his way out, but managed to overcome the difficulty and discharged his cargo, safe and sound at the Packers. Captain MacFarlane is in charge of the Bonilla, which towed the scow of salmon.

$75,000 SAWMILL FIRE

Quebec, Nov. 1.—The sawmill and manufacturing plant of the E. T. Nesbitt Company were completely destroyed by fire last night, causing a loss of between $75,000 and $100,000.

NEW HIGH RECORD FOR SHIPS PASSING THROUGH PANAMA

Panama, Nov. 1.—Ships passing through the Panama Canal during October numbered 315, a new record. Figures on the tolls collected last month were unobtainable to-day, but it was expected that they also would set a new figure for any one month. Thirty-six ships had to be measured as they never had gone through the cut.

PUMPS INSTALLED ON STRANDED SHIP NEAR MAZATLAN

Pumps have been installed on the stranded steamer Guerrero at Mazatlan by the salvage crew from the steamship Algerine, according to information received to-day at the offices of the Pacific Salvage Company. Powerful sand pumps were taken south by the Algerine to facilitate the salvage of the craft.

CAMILLA GILBERT REPORTS POSITION

The Norwegian steamship Camilla Gilbert, inbound from the Orient to be loaded with lumber by the Cameron Lumber Company, was last night in radio communication with the Estevan Point station, giving her position in lat. 50.25 N., long. 145.19 W., at 8 p.m.

The position of the Camilla Gilbert is approximately 300 miles to the westward, and will not reach here before the end of the week.

SNOW FALLS IN STEWART REGION

SS. Prince Rupert Reports
Dirty Weather in Portland Canal

Snow fell heavily early this week in the Portland Canal region. It was reported by the steamship Prince Rupert, Capt. D. Donald, which docked here this morning from Stewart via Prince Rupert.

It was snowing steadily at Stewart when the vessel left the head of the Canal but it was clear by the time she reached Prince Rupert. The rain belt this trip was at Ocean Falls.

Travel on the Northern route continues to be fairly good for the late season, the Prince Rupert bringing about eighty first class passengers south.

The freight movement is exceptionally good and will keep the Prince Rupert operating on the Stewart run until well into January, it is stated.

The famous Premier mine is going strong and hundreds of tons of ore are being shipped out monthly.

The Prince Rupert cleared from the G. T. P. docks here at 11 a. m. to-day for Seattle, and will sail from Vancouver Thursday night for Prince Rupert and Stewart via Ocean Falls.

Negotiations For Participation in Election of Judges

More Strength For International Organization

Geneva, Nov. 1.—Informal negotiations have been going on for some time between the League of Nations and the State Department in Washington to make possible American participation in the election of judges to the Permanent Court of International Justice, it was said at the League headquarters here today. The statement followed receipt of Washington advices stating that adjustments were in progress looking toward American Government representation in the court, which was created under the Treaty of Versailles.

MANSON KEEPS UP FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF LIQUOR IMPORTS

British Columbia Government is to continue its fight to get absolute control of all liquor importations into this Province, according to action taken by Attorney-General Manson in the Legislature this afternoon.

Mr. Manson came forward with a motion for the House to pass a resolution similar to that of last year asking the Federal Parliament at its next sitting to enact legislation to provide for the prohibition of the importation of intoxicating liquors into British Columbia for use here except by the Provincial Government.

The House of Commons at its last session passed the legislation asked for by the Government after Mr. Manson had conducted a vigorous personal fight at Ottawa. But when the legislation went to the Senate, the Conservative majority there threw it out.

It is impossible for the Government here to end all bootlegging as long as individuals and private firms can import liquor in any quantities, Mr. Manson declares.

JAMES M. WOOD IS MANAGING DIRECTOR

Assumes More Influential Association With Begg Motor Company

James M. Wood has acquired an interest in the Victoria branch of the Begg Motor Company, View and Fort Streets, and assumed charge to-day as Managing Director.

Mr. Wood has resided in Victoria for twenty years and has been connected with the motor car business since 1906, having started one of the first automobile firms in the city. He is agent for the Chevrolet and Cadillac cars and Republic trucks.

Mr. Wood is widely known in the city, and is an enthusiastic golfer.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Ward Two Liberals were out in good strength last evening to hear an address by President R. R. Carlow, of the Victoria Liberal Association, and make preliminary arrangements for a dance and whist drive on November 25. Committees have been struck under the chairmanship of Mrs. Booth.

Missing from the home of his parents at Sooke since Monday, Provincial police to-day continued their search for Edward Greston, 26 years old and a returned veteran. Anxiety is felt for the man who is said to have been severely shell shocked in the late war. Provincial Constables Owens, Irvine, Gidley and others continued the search at Sooke to-day, and were without success up to noon. Greston is said to have walked out of his home on Monday without any intimation that he was leaving.

Robert Hetherington was fined $10 for a technical infraction of the building by-law, in police court to-day. The accused was charged with re-shingling a roof within the fire limits while the by-law states all repairs within the limits must be of fire proof material. The court accepted the explanation of the contractor that he was in doubt as to the fire limits which were hard to determine, and imposed a nominal penalty. The maximum for this offence is $100. The prosecution was brought by Building Inspector James Barf.

CONSIDER BIG ALTERATIONS IN CITY MACHINERY

Shake-up of Executive Positions Among Plans Proposed

Would Make Departments More Independent, As in Edmonton

Entire remodelling of City Hall office machinery, including changes in chief executive positions under consideration by members of the City Council now as the result of the visit of Assistant City Controller Muirhead and City Auditor Ismay to Edmonton to investigate financial methods in vogue there.

One of the most important points noted by Mr. Muirhead and Mr. Ismay in Edmonton was the different arrangement of important city duties there, and aldermen are considering the advisability of copying the Edmonton system in this direction. In Edmonton, it was explained at the City Hall to-day, the city tax collector is also the city assessor, while the comptroller is also the treasurer. Assistants carry out the routine work of these dual positions.

This system, it is explained, puts the same official in charge of the assessment of property and the collection of taxes on it and vests the responsibility for all expenditures in the comptroller.

More Independence.

Another important change which may be brought about by the investigation of Edmonton methods is increased independence of each department as far as its financial arrangements are concerned. Under the Edmonton system each department collects its own revenue. Here all money is paid into the City Treasury. The Edmonton system, if installed here, would cut down overhead costs in the Treasury Department considerably. Council members believe. It is proposed, however, that each department would give a daily account of its receipts to the Treasury and all money would be paid out of the Treasury.

Installation of a new "running balance" system in the handling of all city expenditures is another reform that probably will grow out of the Edmonton investigation. Under such a system it is apparent at all times just how much money has been spent out of all annual appropriations and just how much is left in each appropriation. It is believed that changes in this connection would be extremely valuable.

Mr. Muirhead will report to the Council on Monday on his visit to Edmonton. While some of the plans explained in the foregoing may not be considered in detail in this report they are under advisement by Mayor Marchant and his colleagues.

THANKSGIVING SEASON BRINGS LOW PRICES

Public Market All Set for Holiday Season; Slump in Prices

Prices at the Victoria Public Market appear to have reached rock bottom, judging by this morning's trading.

The stallholders endeavor to make the closely approaching Thanksgiving season one of the biggest successes in the history of Victoria. They have slashed the prices down right and left and numerous quantities of Thanksgiving commodities are selling at exceedingly low quotations.

Forty-five and fifty-pound pumpkins are selling at 3c a pound, while all the fruits are being picked up by visitors at popular prices.

King apples were going at $1.50 per box delivered, while the Spitzburgs, which made a good display, were demanding $1.75 per box. Pears are offering some good exhibitions, the general price being 42c, while local grapes are still holding out at 60c a pound.

Local nuts have begun the season with favorable prices which promise a strong demand at the Thanksgiving season. Walnuts are selling at 30c a pound, with hazel nuts coming first in popularity at 40c a pound. English filberts, which are of better quality, are also going at 40c a pound.

MUNICIPALITIES WILL ASK HOUSE FOR BIG REFORMS

Civic Leaders Coming to Seek Relief From School Costs

Propose City Income Tax and New Liquor Money Distribution

Representing all the cities of the Province, members of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities executive will arrive in Victoria in a few days to urge the Government and the Legislature to make "sweeping changes for the benefit of cities and organized districts. Announcement that the Union representatives will be here to confer with the Government reached the City Hall to-day in the form of a letter to Mayor Marchant, a member of the executive.

The municipal representatives, the Mayor was informed, will lay their case not only before the municipal committee of the Legislature but also before the Cabinet and will press vigorously for the reforms that it desires.

A large budget of legislation will be sponsored by the Union at the Legislature's present session, the Mayor was told in the letter received to-day. The most important point that the Union will press will be that the Government relieve municipalities of the burden of public school maintenance. It will be proposed, as an alternative to this, that the Government allow the municipalities to levy an income tax to cover school costs.

It is also proposed that municipal councils be given more control over school matters so that the body which collects revenue shall spend it.

Urges Hospital Fund

A new method of liquor money distribution for hospital purposes also will be advocated by the municipal representatives, the Mayor was informed. The present system of handing over fifty per cent. of Provincial liquor profits to municipalities and ordering them to give half their share to hospitals is unsatisfactory, it is explained. It is proposed, therefore, that the liquor money earmarked for hospitals be placed in special funds in charge of the Provincial Secretary and paid by the Government direct to hospitals.

ACCUSED ADMITS USING FORGED DRAFT ON LOCAL BANKS

Raid Made by Man Awaiting Sentence; Companion Denies Charge

Charged on five counts with making use of a forged draft, known to be spurious, George J. Rigas simplified his trial in the Police Court to-day by pleading guilty to every count. Jerry Antipas, jointly charged with the same offenses maintained his innocence and entered a plea of not guilty to all counts. Frank Higgins, K. C., appeared for the accused. Rigas was remanded for sentence, while the charges against Antipas were set over for hearing to-morrow.

The two accused are jointly charged with obtaining $150 from the Bank of Toronto, $109 from the Dominion Bank of Canada, $200.95 from the Royal Bank of Canada, $159.40 from the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and $172 from the Union Bank of Canada, all in this city on October 27 by making use of drafts on American banks known same to have been forged. C. E. Harrison appeared for the Crown, stating that witnesses may have to be brought from up-Island points and from California. The plea of guilty entered by Rigas was a surprise to-day, it being previously understood that he would fight the case. Both elected to appear before Magistrate Jay.

George Melior charged with driving to the common danger thereby causing bodily harm to Thomas Hughes, was remanded for judgment. J. A. Alkman appeared for the accused, who pleaded not guilty. Witness for the prosecution told of an accident on the occasion of a night, when the boy, Thomas Hughes, was injured. The evidence occupied all morning and was conflicting with many contradictions between the stories of the two sets of witnesses. Mr. Alkman moved for dismissal, holding the fact of the accident was not with the accused. Mr. Harrison moved for conviction on the evidence furnished.

The accident occurred when a car

INDIAN OFFICER HERE.

Major F. Yeats Brown, 17th Indian Cavalry, arrived in this city yesterday, and is now registered at the Empress Hotel. Major Yeats Brown is associated with the colonization mission under the auspices of which some 2,000 officers of the Indian army, with their families, may be persuaded to take up their homes in overseas dominions, many of it hoped in this province. Major Brown is anxious to gather data about island conditions while on his tour of the province, and will be found at the Empress Hotel for the next few days. He has inspected the apple bearing areas in Annapolis Valley, and the Niagara Peninsula, and is now engaged on gathering data pertaining to the situation in British Columbia.

Major Brown met Premier Oliver to-day and discussed immigration matters with him.

Goodman Declines Another Contract

Famous Winnipeg Speed Skater Refuses Offer of Lester Patrick and Will Play Again in Duluth; Vancouver Signs Another Youngster But Will Be Without Adams; Duncan Holding Out; Vancouver Paper Thinks Victoria Is Class of League

Mike Goodman, Winnipeg speed skater and star left wing player, has once again refused a contract to play with the Victoria hockey club.

Lester Patrick, manager of the Aristocrats, has tried vainly to get Mike's signature to a contract. During his recent trip East Lester was closeted with Mike twice and the former Falcon flash assured Lester that there was a fifty-fifty chance of his coming to the coast. On returning here Lester shot a wire to Goodman, offering him a fancy contract, but Mike has replied that he is going to Duluth to play amateur hockey.

Lester has been trying to hook Goodman for three seasons. It was his intention to secure the entire forward line of the world's champion Falcons. In 1920 he signed Frederickson and last year he landed Halderman. Goodman, however, has spurned all offers made by Lester.

Duluth Holds Him. Last winter it looked as though Mike would come West and appear with his old team-mates, but he seemed to have something very tantalizing before his eyes in Duluth and went across the border for the winter. This season Mike seemed uncertain whether to turn pro and come to Victoria or return to Duluth. The American call evidently had the side and Mike still shows his wares before the Yankee patrons for another year.

Goodman is the best amateur prospect in the game to-day. He is the fastest skater in Canada, is a flashy stick-handler and a good back-checker. His great hope is to become an amateur skating champion. For the past two years he has entered the tournaments but has failed to pick off the honors. Last winter he shattered one world's record for the sprint.

Settles Other Matters. With Goodman side-tracked Lester Patrick is now busy completing deals with the Calgary and Regina Clubs in connection with Dick Irwin and "Red" Dutton. Settlement in the Dutton matter is expected any day, but little progress has been made with Manager Champ of Regina, in regard to Irvin. Champ is now doing the negotiating, but either turn over a good prospect to the Victoria club or Dick Irvin will watch the game from the side-lines.

Manager Lloyd Cook, of the Vancouver team, has signed another recruit, Albert Newell, former Saskatoon defenseman. Jack, the third new man to be taken on by the Maroons. Jack Aseltine and Frank Boucher have been signed on by the Vancouver aggregation, but whether they will be good enough to catch regular players remains to be seen. Once again Manager Cook is up against the problem of finding a suitable centre ice man. It is practically certain that Jack Adams, last year's leading scorer, will not be back with the Maroons. He is anxious to play but is having trouble in getting away from Toronto. When Cyclone Taylor quit the game Vancouver was up against it for a centre ice man and Adams was just blossoming out as a real find when fate decreed that he must remain idle for this season at least.

Maroons Hard Pressed. While Vancouver has picked up three substitutes it will find the going hard at the start of the season at any rate. Hurdle Lehman, half back, will not report until after the season has been going for three weeks, and with only an ordinary goalie in front of the Maroons they may see some high totals against them. Art Duncan is a holdout and the team may start off without him. Adams will be missing.

Seattle will go in quest of the pennant with the same team which it had last season. No new faces will be introduced. The Maroons, however, have a pretty slick nine-man team as it is. They received Fraser and Briden last year.

The Vancouver World seems to think that Victoria will have the team to beat in the race this year. With Frederickson, Oatman, Dun-Halderman, Becking, Oatman, Dun-Halderman and Fowler the World thinks the Capital has the class of the league at six-man hockey. With Loughlin has not yet set a record with the Aristocrats. Albert Dieldel will be out of the bidding for a position. When the Dutton and Irvin deals are completed Victoria will have plenty of material to pick from.

CROSSES CONTINENT ON MOTORCYCLE IN SIX AND A HALF DAYS. New York, Nov. 1.—A new motor cycle record for a transcontinental run from Los Angeles to New York was established late yesterday when Wells Bennett of Portland, Ore., holder of a number of speed marks, reached his destination in the actual time of six days, 15 hours running and 13 minutes. His time was seven hours and 39 minutes faster than the record established a month ago by the record establishing "Cannon Ball" Baker, of Edwin G. Leas. The distance is 4,800 miles.

West's and Mets Meet In Important Tussle

West's vs. Mets.

Many times in the past that sign has flashed. It means a lot in the local football circle as it always assured a hot game. It means that the two top teams in town are going after each other.

On Saturday the West's and Mets will have a struggle for supremacy in the First Division. A win for the West's will practically assure them their second championship in two years, while a victory for the Mets will give them a chance to nose out the West's.

The Mets have a strong following which is backing the youngsters to win. The Mets' stock took a bit of a drop after their defeat at the hands of the Sons of England last Saturday, but the Mets were without their regular backs. With a full team out on Saturday the Mets will be able to give a good account of themselves against the West's.

Can Alter League Standing. The Sons of England and Thistles are also allied for a game which should create quite a furore in football circles. A win for the Sons with a loss for the Mets will make the Englishmen runners-up to the West's. A win for the Thistles and a defeat for the West's will make the standing very interesting and make the race closer.

The third game on Saturday will be between the cellar teams. The Crusaders and Sons of Canada should have a merry time. The Crusaders have one point to their credit while the Sons have none.

The games on Saturday will be as follows:

Crusaders vs. Sons of Canada at the Royal Athletic Park. Referee, Locke.

West's vs. Metropolis at Beacon Hill. Referee, Stokes.

Thistles vs. Sons of England at Central Park. Referee, Payne.

Juniors Open Nov. 11.

The Junior Football League will open one week from Saturday. A meeting of the football board will be held on Thursday evening at which the schedule will be drafted. If any other teams wish to enter the league they are advised to get in touch with Billie Cull at the Willoughby Confectionery.

Entries for the Jackson Cup series must be in by Nov. 15, and must be made to Billie Cull. All entries must be accompanied by a five-dollar entrance fee.

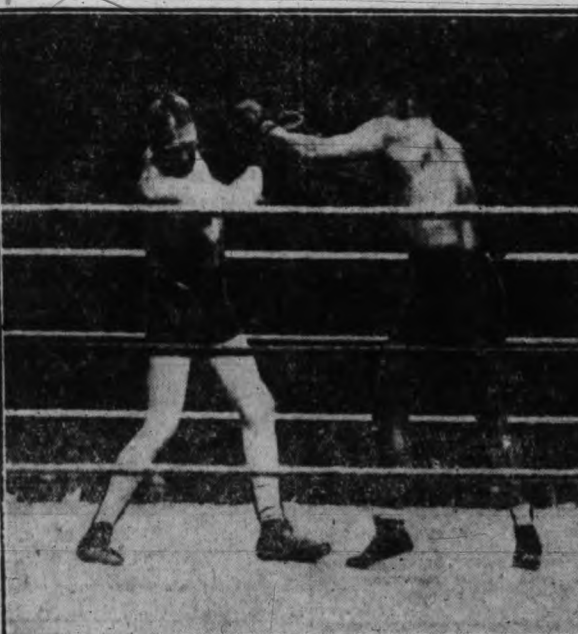

V.I.A.A. TO PRACTICE.

The V.I.A.A. rugby team will hold a practice to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at the V. I. gym, Victoria West, in preparation for Saturdays.

S. S. BASKETBALL.

The Sunday School Basketball Association will meet at 7:30 o'clock, Thursday night, November 2, at the Y. M. C. A.

BECKETT BEATS MORAN

The contest between Beckett and Moran at the Albert Hall, London, recently was a grueling one. In the seventh round the decision was awarded to Beckett (right). Beckett meets Siki in November in London.

Rugby Following Is Keyed Up On Game

Bays and V. I. A. A. Will Battle On Saturday For Leadership In Senior Rugby League; Plenty of Open Play Expected As Both Teams Have Fast-Travelling Backs; Wanderers and Scottish Will Have Side Tussle For Cellar Position

Saturday's rugby games will bring about a break in the tories at present existing in the standing of teams in the Senior League. The J. B. A. A. and V. I. A. A. will do battle at Oak Bay Park for the league leadership, while the Canadian Scottish and Wanderers will struggle at the Willows to escape being dropped into the cellar.

The third week of rugby finds the race extremely close. The Bays and V. I. A. A. have each succeeded in winning all their games to date, and Saturday's meeting will decide who is to go to the top. Both teams have managed to triumph over their opponents through fast work by their backs. The forwards of the top teams have in some cases been outclassed by the under-dogs, notably last Saturday, when the Wanderers pack had the edge on the Bays, but the backs have always come to the rescue and saved the leaders.

LADY GOLFERS NOW PLAY SEMI-FINALS

Mrs. Paterson, Mrs. Fairbairn, Miss Kinlock and Mrs. Parry Playing To-day

The semi-finals in the ladies' city golf championship are being played to-day. In yesterday's play Mrs. H. Paterson, Mrs. Fairbairn, Miss Kinlock and Mrs. Parry won their matches and advanced to the semi-finals. Much interest is being taken in to-day's games, with Mrs. Paterson and Mrs. Parry being favored for the finals.

The ladies are playing some splendid golf. Mrs. Paterson seems to be at the top of her form and easily disposed of Miss Peters yesterday. Mrs. Parry had a good match with Mrs. Hutchinson, winning two up on the seventeenth. Mrs. Fairbairn was meeting the ball fairly yesterday and took Miss Sayward into camp, while Miss Kinlock won from Mrs. Pocock.

The tussle between the Bays and V.I.A.A. will undoubtedly draw a big crowd. The rugby games have been better attended this year than for many past seasons.

Will Have a Good Time. The Wanderers and Scottish will have a merry time in their tussle at the cellar position. The Wanderers are strengthening their side and hope to stage off defeat, while the Scottish may pick up some men backs as McInnes, Johnson, Humber and Totty. The V.I.A.A. will have to be on the alert to nip all openings in the bud.

Nothing About Edmonton Game. In regard to the game with the Edmonton rugger nothing more was heard. Whether the game will be played here depends upon the action of the referees after they reach the Coast this week. If they can work in a game in Victoria it will be done.

Arrangements have been made for the first inter-city rugby match of the season, which will be played on Monday next at Duncan. The team to represent Victoria will be as follows:

Full back, Gilmor (Wanderers); three-quarters, Johnston (Wanderers), Scott-Moncrieff (Wanderers), Hannington (Normal School) and Watson (Bays); half-backs, Hope (Normal School) and Knapton (Normal School); forwards, Crowley (Normal School), MacLaughlin (Bays), Christie (Wanderers), and Raybone (Bays); reserve, Devereux (Wanderers).

Hope, who is captain of the Normal School team, was chosen as captain of the "rep" side.

The meeting decided that it was in the best interests of the league to carry on the schedule as previously arranged, which means that the Wanderers will play the J.B.A.A. on Saturday at 2:45 at the Cranmore Road ground and that the "rep" team practice will be held.

BOXING FLOURISHES IN GERMANY; FORTY-YEAR VET TO SCRAP

Berlin, Nov. 1.—Only one boxing throne remains unoccupied in Germany's pugilistic world. The ownerless title is that of welterweight champion and a holder is expected to appear at it during the coming winter. The other champions are as follows:

Plyweight, Erich Kohler; bantam, Urban Gruber; feather, Kurt Sasse; light, Richard Naujacks; middle, Kurt Prenzel; light-heavy, Walter Bultmann and heavy, Hans Breitenstrater.

"Phenomenon" Volkmer, a boxer who has passed his fortieth year, is in training to contest the bantamweight title. At the same time that he meets the champion, Gruber, it is planned to have the bill include two other title holders, Naujacks and Breitenstrater. Opponents for the latter two men have not yet been definitely selected.

SCOTTISH CURLERS

Winnipeg, Nov. 1.—The Scottish curlers who will arrive at Halifax on January 4, will reach Winnipeg just a month later after stopping at all the principal centres in Eastern Canada.

HUNTERS WISE UP ON AUTOMATIC SHOTGUN

Considerable confusion reigns in sporting circles about the use of the automatic shot gun. On the one hand it is said that the automatic shot gun may be used if the automatic feature is "plugged"; while on the other it is said that this type of shot gun must not be used at all. Game wardens have not been unanimous on the point, some confiscating the guns and warning their users, and others treating the use of the automatic as permissible. Section 15 of the Game Act contains a provision that pump guns and repeating shot guns may not be used unless plugged and adds the following to the prohibition: "or an automatic shot gun of any kind."

BRITTON DEFENDS HIS TITLE THIS EVENING

New York, Nov. 1.—Jack Britton and Mickey Walker were on edge to-day for their 15-round bout here to-night, when the former will defend his title of welterweight champion of the world.

WITH THE BOWLERS

Last night The Colonist bowling team sorely missed some of their last year's men and had to acknowledge defeat by the Eagles by 166 pins. Griffiths, for The Colonist, was high man, and Miller, for the Eagles, To-night, when the former will defend his title of welterweight champion of the world.

Big Crowd Attend Opening of Rink

Eight Hundred Skaters Participated in Opening Night at Arena

The rink is open for another year. Last night about 800 skaters enjoyed their initial whirl of the skating season. Everything was just right for an enjoyable evening. The ice was good and the band made a reputation for itself which it is hoped will not suffer during the coming months.

One noticeable feature of the opening night, was the number of new skaters. Many of the older fans were not present evidently figuring the opening jam too much for a real good skate.

There will be lots of time for the skaters to enjoy themselves this winter. The rink will be open for four months. The Arena is expected to be a place of amusement for the young folks as it provides clean, wholesome exercise and amusement.

BALL PLAYERS RUSH TO JOIN THE UNION

Nearly All National Players Signed With Baseball Players' Union

New York, Nov. 1.—One hundred and thirty-six of the one hundred and seventy-five players in the National League have joined the new Baseball Players' Union.

Six of the eight clubs in the league—New York, Cincinnati, Boston, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and St. Louis—have joined almost to a man. Twenty-one members of the championship Giants have enrolled with the consent and approval of Manager John McGraw.

Nominations have been made for officers and acceptance has been received from several of the most prominent players in the league. The nominations will be made public soon.

The by-laws adopted prescribe that the officers and the members must be players. Athletes after the sport. No American league clubs are represented. Their players have not been solicited, but applications for membership will be accepted.

The high spots in the development of the organization were disclosed yesterday by Raymond J. Cannon, Milwaukee attorney, who was retained by the players as counsel to form the organization.

CAUGHT BIGGEST FISH AND WON C.N.R. TROPHY

It is announced by Canadian National Railways, here to-day, that C. E. Abbott, of Bessemer, Alabama, has been declared the winner of the Nipigon Trophy, for the season of 1922.

This trophy is donated by the railways for annual competition by non-resident anglers, and is held by the disciple of Isaac Walton who secured the largest speckled trout in Nipigon water with rod and line. The trout was caught by Mr. Abbott was 7 pounds, 9 ounces in weight, 27 inches in length, and 15 inches in girth. It was caught on a single hook, with cohoatoh bait.

RECORDS ARE OKED

Winnipeg, Nov. 1.—Jack McVicar, prominent in local rugby, track and junior hockey circles, was selected as president of the Manitoba Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada at the annual meeting here Monday night. Fred E. Law, of the Police Athletic Association, relieves A. R. Morrison as secretary. F. J. Pratt and "Toby" Sexsmith are vice-presidents, and L. A. Johnson continues as treasurer.

The meeting endorsed the numerous athletic marks shattered by local athletes in Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Calgary during the Summer and will recommend the acceptance of several dominion records when the national body meets in December. They include L. S. Armstrong's fifty and sixty-yard marks; Cyril Coaffee's 100, 120 and low hurdles marks, and the half-mile relay record made by Heffelfinger, Armstrong, Miller and Coaffee.

The Police Amateur Athletic Association's request to stage the Canadian boxing, wrestling and track and field championships here next year, was endorsed and will be forwarded to the governing body for approval.

DOMINION

COLUMBIA

Rosemary Theby, who enacts the role of "The Weaver of Dreams" in the William Fox all-star production, "Shame," which is drawing big crowds to the Columbia Theatre, was a busy person just before she was engaged by Fox to play the Queen in Mark Twain's story, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," another big William Fox production, when she was asked if she would also take a part with Louise Lovely, then a Fox Star, in "The Little Grey

Mouse. "But I can't play two different parts at the same time," she protested. "The Queen in the 'Yankee' is something of a vamp part," she was told, "and the part in 'The Little Grey Mouse' is also a vamp part. The moods are similar. Only the clothes and the make-up are different." So Rosemary glided from one set on the Fox lot to the other. Anyone visiting the studio would go away with the idea that Rosemary, Rose and Mary were popular persons. For while Rosemary was acting for one director and his assistants would be looking for her, some calling her "Rosemary," some "Rose," and others "Mary." She is splendid in "Shame."

ROYAL VICTORIA

How well the everyday incidents of life can be evolved into a plot of strong comedy and dramatic appeal will be evidenced when Mack Sennett's six reel comedy-melodrama, to be released through First National "The Crossroads of New York," will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day.

The producer has taken types familiar to everyday life; a young boy from the country, a sentimentally inclined landlady, a Broadway vamp, figures of the financial world, rejected suitors, policemen and lawyers, and combined them in a picture of strong dramatic interest tinged with inimitable humor.

The plot concerns a youngster from the country who comes to the city imbued with the idea that he must have a job with a uniform. Through the influence of a wealthy uncle, who insists that the boy must carve his own way, the newcomer lands with the street-cleaning department. For his home he has a second-rate boarding house, where the landlady obviously prefers him to several husky suitors for her hand, much to the youngster's embarrassment.

The uncle, however, has become the financial backer for a prospective musical show and finds the burden more than he cares to carry. Without a word to anyone, he departs for Alaska, leaving to his nephew the responsibility of caring for his interests.

With this as its starting point the story breezes along at a speedy gait, involving a pretty romance in which George O'Hara and Kathryn McGuire are the leading players. Eddie Gribbon, Billie Beau, Charles Murray and Mildred June, of the Mack Sennett Company, are in the capable cast, which also includes Herbert Standing, Ethel Grey Terry, Noah Beery and Ben Deely.

ARE FEATURED AT CAPITOL

RICHARD BARTHELMESS and LILLIAN GISH in "WAY DOWN EAST"

CAPITOL

In the motion picture production of "Way Down East," now being shown for the first time in this city at the Capitol Theatre, David W. Griffith spent ten months of laborious endeavor and a vast fortune in the creation of wonderful scenes, said to be by far the most pretentious and ambitious of a scene when the weather conditions were perfect for this work. To produce the great snowstorm and breaking ice gorge scene at the climax, a force of engineers were employed for a period of more than ordinary time and even weather experts and men skilled in woodcraft were found necessary that all should be correct.

Enthusiastic throngs of prominent people flocked to the Forty-fourth Street Theatre in New York City for the premiere showing there and paid as high as ten dollars for a single seat. In this city there will be no premium upon first night reservations and there will be daily matinees and evening performances at scheduled and advertised prices.

It is stated that "Way Down East" represents Mr. Griffith and his art at their heights. The film even after entails twelve thousand feet of footage. The producer has followed closely the original stage drama tale of Lillian Gish and Joseph E. Granger, but his elaborations occur in the visualizing of big scenes and spectacular incidents that in the spoken play were made known only through dialogue. The monster production is the most expensive that Mr. Griffith or anyone else ever made. It represents a total cost of more than eight hundred thousand dollars and should any be sufficiently concerned as to this feature they can secure for the asking a sworn statement from the leading auditing corporation in New York City which looked after the financial computation of the undertaking. Mr. Griffith wishes it stated that all this has nothing to do with the merits of the production as regards the audiences who view it. He takes more pride in the work he accomplished in elaborating upon the tender love and subsequent sufferings of Anna Moore, the wronged girl in the story. Griffith has struck with both hands and he brings home with telling force a lesson for men as to the need of a single standard for men and women, assails the narrowness of smug people who overlook in their Scriptural reading that which has to do with "Let he who is without cast the first stone," and sets forth compelling truths which in times gone by have been foolishly hushed.

A foremost cast of well-known players interpret the many roles. Some idea of the correctness and care exercised is to be had from the fact that Burr McWhorter and Vivia Ogden, who appeared in the original production of the play, enact their original roles in the picture. Lillian Gish is seen as Anna Moore and her highly artistic and intelligent work in this elaboration has been rewarded with much praise from even her heretofore most enthusiastic admirers. Richard Barthelmess, who occupies a foremost position among young actors of ability, is the hero of the story. Others in the long list of brilliant players are Lowell Sherman, Mary Hay, Mrs. Morgan Belmont, Creighton Hale, Kate Bruce, Edgar Selwyn, Josephine Bernard, George Neville, Mrs. David Landau, Porter Strong, Patricia Fruen, Florence Short, Emily Fitzroy and Myrtle Sutcliffe.

PIANO RECITAL SET FOR TOMORROW

Digby Tomlinson Will Be Heard at Empress Hotel

The piano recital this week, that of Digby Tomlinson, Vancouver's blind pianist at the Empress Hotel ballroom to-morrow evening, has evinced much interest in the city. He has already many followers in the West who will no doubt wish him success wherever he goes. The pianist has selected a diversified programme, which should appeal to those who love the classic or the popular, including in which are numbers by Chopin, Liszt, Rachmaninoff, Moszkowski, Szymanowski and a number by himself. Assisting Digby Tomlinson is one of Victoria's favorite singers, Mrs. Jesse Longfield, mezzo soprano, who will give two groups of songs. Mrs. A. J. Gibson will act as accompanist.

The recital will begin at 8.30 and is under the distinguished patronage of the Administrator, Chief Justice Macdonald, and others are the music clubs of the city.

THE PLAYHOUSE

To-night Mr. Hincks will present for the first time Playhouse Show No. 7, featuring another potted comic opera in "The Wizard of the Nile." For tuneful music and bright comedy this opera cannot be excelled and as the present version of it includes numerous topical allusions it will prove of much greater interest than ordinarily. There are some seventeen delightful musical numbers in the piece including solos, duets, trios and concerted numbers, all of which are rendered by the carefully chosen cast in artistic style.

The leading parts are again played by Miss Eva Hart and Mr. Ernie Petch, those two local favorites that made such a tremendous hit in the recent production of the Bing Boys. Special scenery has been constructed and painted under the direction of Mr. Stewart Clark which affords a delightful setting for the play.

"The Wizard of the Nile" is to be preceded by a number of vaudeville turns, chief among which is a one-act playlet entitled "A Shot in the Dark," in which Sir Bellingham Blithering has kissed a girl in the dark and is at his wits end to find out who it was. The playlet is from the pen of Mr. Hincks himself and is full of the delightful humor of which he is such a master. Sir Bellingham is played by Mr. T. J. Goddard and any who had the good fortune to see him in any of his previous parts will be quite satisfied that the part has been put into good hands.

Show No. 7 will continue for the balance of the week including a matinee Saturday.

"EVERY GIRL" IS NOTABLE FOR MANY FLAPPERS

Tom McKnight's production of the latest allegorical musical play, "Everygirl," will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre for three days, commencing Monday, Nov. 6, with special Monday Thanksgiving Day matinee.

This cleverly constructed romance of girlhood is aptly described as a festival of flappers and frivolities. The action is divided into two acts and sixteen scenes, each describing some outstanding event in the life of every girl. By a novel device of stagecraft it has been made possible to do a tale-tell each scene with the subsequent setting without the lapse of a half-second.

There are some twenty-six musical numbers and a half-dozen dance interludes interspersed throughout the many dazzling scenes.

The name part of "Everygirl" is in the dainty hands of Miss Judy Davis, a young Canadian actress who has made good in New York. Pat Rafferty, known from coast to coast as one of the cleverest comedians who ever came from the Emerald Isle, has a part in the present show. Another actor of distinction is long producer himself, Tom McKnight, who was last seen here with Henry Woodruff, in "The Prince of Tonight." Among the other outstanding members of the cast are Pauline Harvey, Wee Dorothy Mackay, Babs Mackay and Edith Mackay, all big favorites throughout the Dominion. The flapper chorus is composed entirely of Canadian girls, than whom there are none prettier or more charming.

"TO HAVE AND TO HOLD" IS COMING SOON TO CAPITAL

Black Hawk, Whiteheart, Light-heart, Eagle Cloud, Eagle Eye, a few real Indians still are living. Or, at least, so Paramount attaches found when the tribes began a historic Indian attack upon Jamestown, Va., which is a feature of "To Have and to Hold," George Fitzmaurice's new production for Paramount, in which Betty Compson and Bert Lytell have the featured roles and which will be on view at the Capitol Theatre for six days commencing Monday next.

Redskins by the score went to the Laasy ranch, dressed in the scanty garb of the primitive Virginia savage. Picturesque indeed, then, but not so picturesque when they doffed their make-up and started for their homes. For your modern Indian is rather a well-dressed individual, whose Carlsbad, Haskell or Sherman training has given him a perfect command of English.

In the "To Have and to Hold" crowd there were many Cherokees who took the "extra" jobs for a lark. It is said, the pay cheque being not financially necessary, as the particular braves concerned have made independent fortunes in oil discovered on their lands in Oklahoma.

ANIMALS IN "THE OLD HOMESTEAD" AT DOMINION

The phrase "all star" has been much abused, but the cast of "The Old Homestead" which comes to the Dominion Theatre next week may truthfully be said to be of that calibre. Theodore Roberts, George Fawcett, T. Roy Barnes, Fritz Ridgway, Harrison Ford, Kathleen O'Connor, James Mason, Ethel Wales and others make up a list that is hard to surpass.

This Paramount picture is based on Denham Thompson's famous play

The story is familiar—how the son of Uncle Josh is falsely accused of theft and goes away to meet with stirring adventure and finally to be restored to his home and sweetheart. But there is far more than that to the story. There is adventure, love, human character in abundance, humor and sympathy, this great story which was adapted by Perley Poore Sheehan and Frank E. MARCEL DUPRE WILL BE SEEN HERE THIS MONTH

Great interest has been aroused in musical circles at the announcement that the remarkable organist of Notre Dame Cathedral, Paris, Marcel Dupre, is to play here on November 15. It is said he is not only a fascinating organist, but that his interpretative sentiment insight in all the great masters' works, such as Bach for instance, borders on the uncanny. His improvisations are marvelous and at the conclusion of one of his recent New York recitals he improvised, with amazing skill, on the theme of "Old Folks at Home," which he treated first in a free, rhapsodic way and then built into a vigorous double figure. With such an artist at the console, the organ comes into its own. On Thursday morning next the sale of tickets for this great musical event will open at Willis Pianos, Government St.

MANSON COMES TO AID OF PUZZLED LABOR MEMBERS

Major Burde Joins Neelands, Guthrie and Uphill in Speech
Then Government Wins First Division on Unemployment Issue

Attorney-General Manson came to the aid of the labor section of the House yesterday afternoon when he proposed "an amendment to the speech from the throne," expressing regret that there had been no mention in it of the unemployment problem and urging that the Government put through some legislation in the interests of the unemployed.

Mr. Neelands pointed out, when R. H. Neelands, labor member for South Vancouver, moved the amendment, that what they really sought was an amendment to the reply to the speech, as the speech from the throne itself could not be amended. Mr. Manson offered to fix up the amendment for the labor members and this offer they accepted.

Mr. Neelands declared that large numbers of men are out of work at present through no fault of their own, but because the present system denies them a living. He believed that the long hours of sweating which some workers submit to and which results in much disease and suffering are directly traceable to the extent of unemployment and the fear that men with jobs now have of being thrown on the streets themselves with nothing to support their wives and families.

A Larger Problem.
"In dealing with the unemployed problem, we are really dealing with the whole industrial problem," Mr. Neelands said. "I am anxious that the Government do something for the unemployed because at every season of the year, men are out of work. Even in good times, the pressure under which industry is carried on requires that the young and efficient be used with the result that the middle-aged and old are thrown on the streets."

Sam Guthrie, socialist member for Newcastle, also declared it regrettable that nothing was said in the king's speech about unemployment, especially as the recent report of the superintendent of employment agencies in Vancouver showed that there are 6,000 men already this fall without jobs.

"In the speech from the throne, we have mention of Byng of Vimy, but no mention of the returned soldier who fought just as hard in this war, but who are now out of work," Mr. Guthrie said.

In reference to the failure, he alleged, that the Liberal party had made in discovering any solution for unemployment, Mr. Guthrie declared that what Disraeli said about Conservatism in England applied equally well to Liberalism here: "Conservatism is organized hypocrisy," he quoted Disraeli as saying.

Mr. Guthrie also declared that although the wheat crop this year showed a big increase over that of last year, the unemployed are not being bettered in any way.

Tom Uphill, labor member for Fernie, said that men are now turning in large numbers to the Province from the Prairie harvest fields, but there are no jobs available. He Says the Wise Old Owl:

If Rip Van Winkle came and found The new Improved Gillette around, He'd certainly shed his razor.
For all those wasted shaveless years,
And hustle to the nearest store
To make up for the days of yore.

declared that the Province should be thankful that the unemployed do not take sterner measures than they have in the past, adding, "But because they have been docile in the past is no reason why they should be so in the future."

Wants to Talk After.
Major R. J. Burde, member for Alberni, said he wanted to speak on this amendment, but he also wanted to speak in a general way in the debate on the reply and did not want his present effort to interfere with making a longer speech later on. He asked for a ruling from the chair as to whether he would be allowed to speak again, adding that last session when the present Attorney-General, whom he called the "boy wonder," was speaker he was very tolerant in allowing him to make long and frequent speeches in the early part of the session, but later when "Billie" came down from the Lieutenant-Governor like a snowstorm, he could never catch his eye.
Attorney-General Manson declared that labor conditions were much better at present than a year ago, and it was hoped to avoid serious difficulties this winter. Last year many sawmills were shut down, which at the present time were working. Along the G. T. P. Railway practically all mills were in operation.

Immigration.
Mr. Guthrie interrupted to ask why the Agent-General, the Attorney-General and other officials were working to get additional people out from the Old Country when there was so much unemployment. The reply was that only agriculturalists were sought, and it was felt that thousands of farmers could be placed upon the vacant lands of the province to advantage.

Mr. Manson then said that municipal representatives agreed that no more doles should be given out, but that relief work should be confined to the construction of necessary public works. He remarked that certain labor and independent members had voted against the voting of $250,000 for unemployment relief at the last session. This was denied by Messrs. Guthrie, Neelands and Uphill.

The division was then called for and the amendment defeated. The opposition and independents voted solidly, with the exception of Thomas Menzies, of Comox, who supported the Government.

HART A "WIZARD" HINCHLIFFE SAYS

Victoria Member Would Consult Finance Minister on Oil Stock Prospects
Then Gives Speaker Pauline Problem in Making His First Ruling

J. Hinchliffe, Conservative member for Victoria, speaking on the debate in the House, congratulated Speaker Pauline upon his appointment and then protested against the idea which he said was prevalent that the House should conclude its business before Christmas.

"There is too much of this hasty passing of legislation," he complained, "and we should remain here as long as necessary."

The member was in sympathy with the tribute paid Lord Byng in the King's speech and also thought credit was due the Premier for his part in the fight for lower freight rates. But he did not agree that it was a matter of regret that British Columbia did not secure the sole right to import liquor.

He was inclined to compliment the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, upon the results of his borrowing and thought with such a "wizard" in that position the people might feel free to consult him on the probable outcome of private financial ventures. For instance, he would like to know when his oil stock, which was worth seven-eighths of a cent would jump to ten.

Mr. Hinchliffe approved of the Attorney-General's avowed desire to enforce the liquor laws, and suggested that the Minister should call private members into conference of ten in order to learn just what are the wishes of the people.

He attacked the Government strongly for deferring the Vancouver by-election and said that while the Government had the power through the constitution to carry on without filling a seat, still it appeared a flagrant misinterpretation of the spirit of that constitution. Every voter had the right to full representation, and the Government was tampering with the sacred rights of the people.

"This policy of the Government is first of all a confession of weakness," he averred, "and it is so considered by the people of Vancouver and of the Province. It is an acknowledgement of the people's dissatisfaction with the Government, which has a fear of the results of an appeal to the people."

He asserted that the Government had no right to remain in power if it could only hold office by withholding the rights of the electorate.

The Victoria member took the Government to task for its treatment of civil servants, a body which was in the power of the administration, he said. The principles of promotion through service and statutory increases should be recognized.

He found fault with the operation of the Government employment bureau and said that men who were out of work had recently gone to these offices and saw jobs posted which proved to be prospective positions in Windsor, Ontario.

Attorney-General Manson suggested that the location of the jobs might have been written upon the bulletin by some wag. The member said he appreciated the subtlety of the Attorney-General's remarks and passed on to a discussion of Government integrity in office.

At this point Mr. Hinchliffe informed the House that he had completed his preliminary remarks and then proposed to commence his main address. He submitted a resolution on education as follows:

"Resolved that this House regrets that the Government has not caused a complete investigation to be made of the public school system and the general educational system of the Province, so that the matter might come before the present session of the Legislature for consideration."

Speaker Pauline read the amendment, whereupon Premier Oliver maintained that the Victoria member had exhausted his right to speak further. Rule books and journals of the House were consulted, but no relief came. Finally, after half an hour's discussion, Speaker Pauline reserved his decision.

MORE ATTENTION FOR AGRICULTURE

Voice of Farmers Heard in British Election Campaign

London, Nov. 1.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Lord Strachey, addressing the Council of the General and Associated Chambers of Agriculture in London yesterday, said that to his mind, agriculture had been very much neglected and played the fool with in the last Parliament. They must see, he said, that in the coming Parliament they had men with full knowledge of agricultural interests.

Lord Strachey suggested that during the next two weeks the agriculturists should turn their ploughshares into swords and not be content with vague assurances of candor and sympathy and general support of the interests of the agriculturalists.

HOHENZOLLERN CALLS HIMSELF EMPEROR

Writes Down Titles He No Longer Possesses in An- nouncing Marriage

Doorn, Holland, Nov. 1.—The question was raised in the Belgian Chamber whether the Dutch authorities were cognizant of the fact that Wilhelm Hohenzollern, former Kaiser of Germany, in an official document was permitted to assume titles he no longer possessed. Reference was made especially to the registrar's announcement of the approaching marriage of Hohenzollern, which, when posted read:

"His Majesty Friedrich Wilhelm Victor Albert, Emperor, and King Wilhelm II, no profession, domiciled in Doorn, has given notice of intended marriage to Her Serene Highness Hermine."

The burgomaster of Doorn meets the objection by stating that Hohenzollern is described by right of birth as Emperor and King, but that he is no longer Emperor or King of Prussia. Moreover, the burgomaster contends it is outside his province to test the accuracy of the descriptions which intending bridegrooms choose to apply to themselves.

Preparations at Hohenzollern's residence are being hurried for the reception of the new mistress. Much costly furniture, salvaged from various imperial castles in Germany, is being put in, while magnificent Gobelin tapestries, gifts from European rulers, are being used to cover the whitewashed inner walls of the large semi-circular gate of the lodge where the civil ceremony will be performed.

The religious ceremony will take place in a large, oblong, vestibule lined with white marble, fifty feet by twenty-five feet.

FIRST BATTLE OF YPRES REMEMBERED IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Nov. 1.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The anniversary of the First Battle of Ypres was commemorated yesterday in London by the sale of corn flowers in the streets in aid of the Ypres League, which has decided to establish a permanent hospital in Ypres for the poorer people who journey there to visit the graves of their dead.

FIRE INSURANCE FIGURES REPORTED

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The amount of fire premiums written in 1921 was $50,829,291, and in 1920, $54,764,281, the decrease being $3,934,990, or 7.17 per cent. of the 1920 business, says a report to the Federal Government. Superintendent of Insurance. The losses incurred in 1921 exceeded by $5,384,000 the losses in 1920, the figures being $20,253,341 and $24,872,340, respectively. The ratio of losses incurred to premiums written for 1921 was 59.51 per cent, as against 45.42 per cent. for 1920, 50.28 per cent. for the last five years and 57.16 per cent. for the entire fifty-three years over which the department's record extends.

MUNICIPALITIES IN GERMANY WILL ISSUE PAPER MONEY

Berlin, Nov. 1.—Fifteen billion marks of emergency money will be issued shortly by municipalities in Germany, including 5,000,000,000 by Hamburg and 2,000,000,000 by Berlin.

It is noted that the sums will not appear in the figures on Germany's currency inflation reported for the Federal Government.

An American family had a coal-black cook named Sarah, and when her husband was killed in an accident, Sarah appeared on the day of the funeral dressed in a suitable outfit except in one respect.

"Why, Sarah," said her mistress, "what made you get white gloves?" Sarah drew herself up and said in tones of dignity, "Don't you s'pose I wants people to see dat I've got on gloves?"

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and extra about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Reparations Commission announced to-day that on November 8 it will offer by auction at 140,000 francs, 143,991 ordinary shares and 970 other shares of the Lombard railway transferred to the Commission by the German Government under article 360 of the Treaty of Versailles. Only National banks of the Allied countries and the United States will be allowed to make bids.

No man who eats lots of meat really can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much meat may form uric acid, which clogs kidney pores so that they slough filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, in you get sick. Rheumatism, hives, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The ment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended a sensation of scalding, get about 1 ounce of Jad Salts from any able pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grape and lemon juice, combined with soda, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and soothe them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it is longer cause of irritation, thus offsetting bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot be made a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which even a child can take now and then to help the kidneys clean and the blood, thereby often preventing serious complications. (Adv.)

Ties' Book Review

PROF. W. T. ALLISON

On the events of Book Week, which begins to-day, will be the publication of a special number of The Quill Canadian short story magazine, which made its initial appearance last week. It is a most interesting story.

The Quill has been launched primarily for the purpose of presenting to the work of new Canadian writers. Those who have already arrived, says, "for the most part have there had to adapt their work to the market. It is a lamentable fact that substitution of one city's name for another is usually all that is needed to make what is commonly supposed to be a Canadian story."

Mallory has been led to make this statement by the fact that he is a writer, whose name frequently appears in prominent Canadian and American magazines, and his manuscript companying it with a note to the effect that "this is a Canadian story."

He is specifically Canadian, could easily be made so by substituting Montreal or Toronto for the western wherever the latter occurs in the narrative. This Toronto edition that is going to publish stories that are distinctly Canadian in their collection of stories is a book in this respect, and they are very printed in beautiful style on good paper. No doubt The Quill will improve in literary value. Its editor announces that he is in the market for short Canadian fiction, and that will be made promptly on account. So here is your opportunity, to devise a plot and try your literary writing.

At least one day, and I recall the name as a fine chap and a very good writer. I dare say he could not, but it is not pleasant to read during a trip which he made in Russia last year he could get hold of so little food that he lost 23½ pounds of his corpulent avoirdupois. Since his return Mr. Mackenzie has recovered sufficiently to write a book, "Russia Before Dawn" (T. Fisher Unwin, London), in which he gives some very graphic stories not only of his own adventures, but of famine conditions in Russia. In travelling through the country last winter, one of Mr. Mackenzie's party died and another became a chronic invalid. Mr. Mackenzie tells us that he was mistaken for a bandit in Ufa, and nearly shot; he was held prisoner for floating ice for days on the Irtysh, where the temperature fell to 45 below zero. The description of the sufferings of Russian children, as narrated by Mr. Mackenzie, is the plus ultra of human misery.

Hamlin Garland, the well-known American novelist, made an address recently before the English-speaking Union in London, during the course of which he said that literary exchange between England and the United States was, at the present time, woefully one-sided. England read but few American books and knew but few American writers. The American dollar had a high rating, but American books were still at a discount. American readers had a wide knowledge, not only of English classics, but of modern English authors, for the reason that almost every school in America had its Professor of English Literature, whose duty it was to inform the youth under his care of the rise, development and present state of English literature.

In a new volume of her autobiography, just published in England, Mrs. Asquith states that the night before Dr. Jameson, of South African raid fame, dined with Mr. Asquith and herself in Cavendish Square. Margot confessed that "Dr. Jim" had a taking way with him. "Dr. Jim," she says, "had personal magnetism and could do what he liked with my sex. He was one of those men who, if he had been a quack, could have made a vast fortune, either as a doctor, thought reader, faith healer, or a medium; but he was without quackery of any kind. I never thought him a fine judge of people, but here I may be wrong. If his brains had been as good as his nature, he would have had a commanding position in any country. The reason that convinced me that they were not was when he told us of the great scheme that had failed, which was to kidnap President Kruger and carry him off in person."

Canada and the United States from November 1 to November 14, inclusive, will be one-eighth of one per cent. No surcharge will be collected on international freight or passenger business.

NOVEL SNUFF BOXES

The extraordinary manner in which the natives of Iceland take snuff was described recently by Mr. A. E. Coleby, the well-known Stoll producer, who has just returned from that chilly spot, where he has been producing the exterior scenes in the screen version of Sir Mall Caine's "The Prodigal Son."

"Snuff-taking in Iceland," said Mr. Coleby, "is not a habit. It is an art. Snuff boxes are made out of sheep's horns, the ends of the horns being cut off about three or four inches from the top. A stopper is put on the wider end of this novel box, while the pointed end is pierced with a small hole.

"When the snuff-taker wishes to indulge in his favorite hobby, he merely puts the pointed end of the horns against his nostrils and sniffs."

A STUPENDOUS SALE

GOWEN'S FIRST SALE

Prices Radically Reduced

NOTHING BUT THE MOST URGENT NECESSITY—The necessity of reducing our stock at least $15,000 compels us to offer this High-Grade Stock at prices that are less than that of ordinary clothing and furnishings. Our stock is not a sale stock. Seldom, if ever, has an opportunity been given to purchase at Sale Prices a similar High-Grade Stock. Taken all in all it is probably the Highest Grade Stock in any store in British Columbia. We are forced, however, to depart from our usual custom of "No Special Sales" and for ten days we will offer this stock at prices that will afford you the privilege of purchasing the Highest Grade Men's Clothing and Furnishings on the market at prices in many cases lower than that of ordinary makes. The only exception on the entire $55,000 stock are the contract Jaeger lines which we are in honor bound to sell at contract prices. This Big Sale will start Thursday morning at nine o'clock sharp.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY ORGANIZED FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA

Judge Howay Charges Eastern Ignorance to Fault of Province

Society Will Mark Sites and Preserve Ancient Records

Forty persons interested in historical research last night organized the British Columbia Historical Society at a meeting held in the Provincial Library Building, Beaumont Bogen was voted to the chair, and before assuming direction of the proceedings announced he was present as delegate from the British Campaigners, to entrust to the association, when formed, and to the care of the Provincial Archivist meantime, valuable documents and letters in the possession of the Campaigners. This announcement was warmly applauded.

John Forsyth, Provincial Librarian, explained the objective of those causing the meeting, admitting the multiplicity of societies existing at the time for all kinds of objects, but believed a useful field awaited a historical association.

Value of Depository.
"Some time ago I had occasion to seek some original documents concerning the early days of the Hudson's Bay Company, and I found to my regret that all too often, the documents had been lost or destroyed for lack of a fireproof depository, such as is available to-day in this building," explained Mr. Forsyth.

"Then there are sites of historical interest which should be marked, preferably by the local residents concerned. Many of these are of great interest to visitors, and should not be allowed to pass into oblivion for lack of an active historical association," said the Provincial Librarian, who then read off a long list of British Columbia's points of interest.

"It is surprising how many of these exist and are ignored for lack of marking," he said.
Mr. Forsyth suggested lectures by experts would be popular, declared the library possessed a fine collection of lantern slides available to the association, and outlined several other suitable methods of arousing interest.

"We have such interesting historical facts as to attract visitors from Ottawa, England and other great distances, so should be able to interest our own people and keep a historical association busy for quite a time to come," he said.

Judge Howay, of New Westminster, said the proposal to organize a historical society was only one-sided.

"Every province has one; the only question to me is, why in the world but is yeast ironized, which is a substance all by itself. This gives back, restores to the body, materials you have lost, and while yeast is used to have when you were romping around in your teens. Ironized Yeast contains, for this reason, Nature's greatest source of brain, nerve and tissue energy. It gives you power plus, quick! It does it in half the usual time. No matter how old you are now, you can get a young man's iron, and a young man's vitamins; a young woman's iron, and a young woman's vitamins. These two things are the twin of human strength, human charm. They mean to you, success—social and business. There is only one Ironized Yeast in the world. Be sure that you get it, and beware of substitutes. Sold at all drug stores at $1.00 a package. Each package contains 60 tablets, each tablet is sealed. They never lose their power. Harold F. WOMAN'S WORK NEVER DONE

It Seems So in Many Cases and Good Health is Always Necessary

Viscount, Saskatchewan.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness of the female organs. I had pains in the back and bearing-down pains in the abdomen and was in a general run-down condition. I could not sleep, rest or work and was quite unfit to do even slight household tasks. A friend told me about your Vegetable Compound and I in my turn truly recommend it, as my severe symptoms vanished and I am better in every way. I do my own work, look after my children and see to chickens, cow and my garden. I also recommend it for young girls who are weak and run down as my 16-year-old daughter has taken it and is quite her own gay self again."—Mrs. Fern Willet, Viscount, Saskatchewan.

I Live On A Farm
Upper New Horton, N. B.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and they have done me a world of good. Since then I have been able to do my housework and I have a lot of work to do as I live on a farm. Seeing your advertisement in the papers was what made me think of writing to you. I hope this will help someone else."—Mrs. Wm. B. Kervin, Upper New Horton, New Brunswick.

have not organized long before this?" he said.

Denying emphatically that history is a "dry" subject, Judge Howay said: "That cannot be said of the history of British Columbia, whether you think of it as the spot famed by the search for gold, the land that put an end to Spain's all embracing claims, territory that twice almost brought our Motherland to war, or a score of other ways, it seems to me our Province's history cannot be dry. It is the way the subject has been treated," he earnestly protested.

Judge Howay at time aroused applause as he laid before his audience the high points of this Province's history, the joys of better knowledge of the great work of obscure persevering pioneers, and referred to the presence of similar societies in Oregon and Washington. "They are not in the same class with this Province as regards material; their students have to come here to make intensive studies, and the remarkable thing is, if you want any information published, printed, you have to go to the Oregon and Washington society publications and there you get what? In great part you get material secured right out of this library building," he said dramatically.

Value of Public Interest.
Finances were touched upon, the judge declaring many states of the Union make handsome appropriations for the work of their Historical Associations, but pointing out that the public interest was the chief factor. "We have talked a lot, but done nothing; it is time for us to put our hands in our pockets, our shoulders to the wheel, and keep pushing and shoving, until things get moving freely."

Judge Howay denounced as a national disgrace the fact that an American Association had the honor of putting up the Nootka Sound memorial, "while we people of Canada have the honor of permitting the memorial to come across the boundary without paying customs duty."

Professor Sage.
Professor W. N. Sage, of the University of British Columbia, said the organization of a historical association would be welcomed by Dean Coleman and the University authorities.

"Judge Howay has suggested our teachers have not properly presented British Columbia's history. I go further, I say our history has not been taught at all. The reason is this, the teachers have not had the chance to learn the history of our Province, there is as yet no short history written," he said.

Professor Sage declared the archival department of the Provincial Library to be the finest in Canada, and quoted eminent Eastern educationalists as being in agreement.

"There is a profound ignorance in Eastern Canada as to the history of this Province, and we cannot blame those people, we never made any effort to tell them anything about ourselves," he charged, and declared institutions of local chapters to be essential, and the publication of a magazine to be a necessity.

Professor Sage closed amid applause by reminding the meeting that "study of the past helps us shape the future."

Indian Legends.

Louis C. J. Matthews, of Nitinat, told of Indian legends secured as a result of years of patient work. Legends based on aboriginal history of great interest. "I am convinced that the whole of this island offers great attraction for historical study, only awaiting the coming of better transportation facilities," he said.

"Who among you knows the history of the giant of Gonzales Hill or his wife, who dwells within the nostrils? he demanded, and briefly alluded to that monument to Indian beliefs and superstitions, pointing out that when origins of stories are understood, true facts stand out from wildly impossible narratives.

W. N. Kelly and F. G. Godsall pledged the support of the Natural History Society, the former saying he regretted that the Victoria Chamber of Commerce had not taken greater interest in the Provincial Archives and Museum.

Mrs. McMicking, Joseph Levy and Major P. V. Longstaffe spoke briefly and Chairman Boggs secured unanimous support for a Provincial Historical Association, with Judge Howay, John Forsyth, Beaumont Boggs and Professor Sage as a constitution committee, with Mr. Forsyth acting as temporary secretary.

Similar unanimity greeted the proposal that, when formed, affiliation with the Canadian Historical Society will be sought.

Why Imperial Oil Limited Makes Investments In Victoria-

THREE new, conveniently located Imperial Oil Service Stations are now completed, ready for service to Victoria motorists. Another is now in course of construction. These stations will be equipped with every device which can contribute to the prompt satisfaction of motorists' needs. They will be manned by courteous attendants. We recognize our responsibility to the community and in making this permanent investment in Victoria, we have designed and are building service stations which will be in keeping with the general attractive appearance of the city.

At these new stations and at dealers, you may obtain Imperial Premier Gasoline, a straight run, all-refinery product. Imperial Premier Gasoline is refined to a definite standard for producing quick starting, brisk acceleration, full power and long mileage. Good gasoline must have all these qualities. It must have highly volatile fractions in order to vaporize easily and provide quick starts. It must have gradually rising fractions that burn up speedily and provide smooth acceleration and it must have a relative portion of heavier fractions which produce great heat and provide full power and mileage. Imperial Premier Gasoline is such a gasoline. It meets every requirement throughout the range of engine power and speed.

In purchasing land in Victoria and in constructing these modern service stations, we are carrying out a regular Imperial Oil policy, namely—that we shall not only supply petroleum products of the highest quality but shall make these products easily available to the consumer. This policy was fixed upon in 1881 when Imperial Oil Limited was organized at London, Ont. Adherence to this policy has aided us in building a business of nation-wide scope. This idea of service has caused us to study the requirements of the country and to build five great oil refineries which economically meet the demand for petroleum products throughout Canada. It was a study of the requirements, present and future, of British Columbia which determined the location of one of these refineries in British Columbia—a plant representing an investment of over $2,000,000 and employing more than 300 people.

Under the leadership of Imperial Oil Limited, Canadian and English interests have developed the Peruvian oil fields and put into commerce a fleet of tank ships which bring this high grade Peruvian oil to our British Columbia refinery.

This same policy of service and our responsibility to the wide territory we serve has prompted us to undertake a limitless search for oil in Canada. Millions have been expended in this effort which to date has brought little success, but the work goes on with the hope of success still before us and the knowledge that the discovery of oil in commercial quantities would add enormously to the national wealth of the country and make Canada more self-sustaining.

The permanence of our policy is perhaps little better indicated than in the benefits which have been set up to safeguard the interests of our great family of employees. Imperial Oil Limited employees are protected with old age pensions, with sickness, accident and death benefits. They are accepting the privilege of buying Imperial stock at about two-thirds of the market price and Imperial Oil stock is passing into the hands of its employees at the rate of over one and a half million dollars a year.

Our latest investment in Victoria, represented by these new service stations now opened, is a further development of the broad policy that has always prevailed. We recognize, as a part of our function, the responsibility of meeting the requirements for petroleum products in the cities in which we are established. It was that policy, again, which prompted us to take care of our customers in Victoria during the gasoline shortage on the Pacific coast a few years ago. At that time we maintained our service although elsewhere oil famished markets were clamoring for petroleum at almost any price we might have named.

Likewise, we maintained the quality of our goods during the period of scarcity. In fact, since the opening of our B.C. Refinery in 1915 the grade of gasoline supplied to our customers has averaged considerably higher in quality, year in and year out, than the gasoline sold in B.C. or in the Pacific Coast States to the South.

Victoria motorists and others have a right to know something of the record and ideals of service of the company which has played so prominent a part in the life and industry of the province. We believe they recognize the permanent character of Imperial Oil Limited's investments in British Columbia and we in turn can assure them that we shall keep faith in the high quality of our products and our obligation to serve.

S.S. Honolulu On Fire

Here are more remarkable pictures of the City of Honolulu, taken from the lifeboats into which the passengers and crew were driven by the fire destroying the ship in mid-Pacific. Upper picture shows the burning ship listing as she started to sink. The center picture shows the doomed steamer, also part of the occupants of the last boat, save the captain's, to leave the blazing vessel.

At the left are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barber and their two children, passengers on the City of Honolulu. The kiddies thought the lifeboat experience a real delight.

FOR CHILDREN
STORY FOR TODAY

TWINKLE-EYES WATCHES HIS WIFE.

Part I.

Twinkle-Eyes did not sleep long for his children scammed and squeaked as they ran up and down the side and over the top of the house. When he opened his eyes

Mrs. Twinkle-Eyes was calling softly to her children to come down and see what she had for them and to his surprise all the children stopped squeaking and came running down to where their mother stood.

Twinkle-Eyes expected them to hear him and after a while all was as still as mice can be. Inside the house,
Mrs. Twinkle-Eyes felt a soft tap, and his wife whispered, "Come in and go to bed, my dear. I know you must be tired out. The children are fast asleep."

"My dear," said Twinkle-Eyes as he walked toward his home with his little wife, "I am tired, I am worn-out with those children asking questions and how you have lived with them all this time I do not know. What I do not know about bringing up children would fill a book and you are the wisest little wife a mouse ever had.

But something will have to be done to stop them from squeaking or we will have a mouse in charge of a hospital at Akidu.

"I am going to attend to that tomorrow," replied Mrs. Twinkle-Eyes.
"They are old enough to run about by themselves now and they will have to know puss and all about her."

Twinkle-Eyes did not ask any questions. Instead he tumbled into bed and was soon asleep dreaming of puss cats that stood on their hind legs and caught mice that ran over the tops of his houses.

"Squeak, squeak," heard Twinkle-Eyes the first thing in the morning, and then he remembered what his wife had said about teaching the children about puss so he jumped out of bed and watched.

The seven little mice were having their faces washed and they all sat in a row while their mother with a face cloth made them tidy.

"Squeak! You hurt! O my eye. You are rubbing off my face." Such cries of pain heard Twinkle-Eyes as he watched his wife make the children ready and when at last the seven faces were slick and clean she tied on their hats and said, "Follow me."

Down through the wall Twinkle-eyes followed his family, wondering all the while what his wife was going to do. He wondered too if she would bring them all back to the attic for there was puss down stairs and the traps.

But Mrs. Twinkle-Eyes knew what she was about as he was soon to learn. When she reached the hole in the wall she looked out and saw

CONNAUGHT GOES SOUTH FOR HEALTH

London, Nov. 1.—Lady Leslie Jerome is now beginning to get about in a bath chair after her long illness following her sister Lady Randolph's death. Lady Leslie made a visit recently to the Duke of Connaught and Lady Patricia Ramsey at Bagshot, which did her some good. Lady Patricia accompanies her father to Beaulieu for the winter, his doctor still forbidding him to remain in England after the middle of October. The Duke, though particularly robust for his years, is subject to bronchitis, which proved fatal to King Edward.

Mrs. Frank Belville had a very small dinner party at her house in George Street, Portman Square, to meet the Prince of Wales. The guests included "Chancellor" of the Exchequer Horne, Lady Glynard and Mrs. Dudley Ward, but the star of the party was John Cosden, reputed to have made several millions in oil in five years and who has just returned from Scotland, where he was staying with Charles Munn at Dunkeld. Mr. Cosden and wife are returning to New York by the Olympic line month. The tale of Mr. Cosden's millions has dazzled his English acquaintances and the couple have been overwhelmed with invitations to smart parties here which their plans have prevented them attending.

PREMIER REPORTS PROGRESS IN FIGHT FOR FREIGHT CUTS

made owing to the reduction in the differentials contained in the mountain scale. (This is still subject to confirmation.)

"(3.) The benefit of a reduction of 50 per cent. of the excess formerly charged in Pacific rates over and above the Prairies—namely, differential as reduced from 1½ to 1; 1½ to 1¼; and this latter reduction is carried through all commodity rates and all terminal and distributing tariffs so as to bring them in the same relationship to present standard tariffs as they had to the former.

"An approximate estimate of the total represented by these rate reductions, and which could be considered as relieving in a measure the trade of British Columbia and the interprovincial trade originating to points in British Columbia on the three railway lines, at between two and one-half and three million dollars per annum."

At its last session the Legislature voted $40,000 to cover the cost of the application made to the Board of Railway Commissioners, "which costs the Premier gave as follows:

Disbursements $21,886 09
Counsel fees allowed 22,000 00
Total $43,886 09

The cost of attendance before the Parliamentary Committee was:

Disbursements $1,759 35
Counsel fees allowed 3,000 00
Total $4,759 35

"I feel quite sure that the claim of the Province for a complete removal of the excess rates in British Columbia caused by the mountain scale was injuriously affected by the action of Parliament in passing the Crow's Nest Pass agreement grain rates, and the Government has instructed Mr. McGee to give notice of and to prepare an appeal to His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, such appeal claiming a total removal of the mountain scale rates.

"Our Government appreciates very highly the assistance of merchants, manufacturers, Boards of Trade, and many others, more particularly all those persons who, at great cost and inconvenience to themselves, accompanied Mr. McGee and myself to Ottawa, and there attended the last sitting of the Board of Railway Commissioners."

The Premier presented as an Appendix certain figures showing the difference between old rates and new.

INSPECTS FORCES

Permanent Details Reviewed at Work Point Barracks By Chief of Staff.

Permanent force details were inspected by Major-General J. H. MacBrien, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., chief of general staff, Canadian militia, at Work Point Barracks yesterday. Units from the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery, Royal Canadian Engineers, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, Royal Canadian Army Service Corps and Royal Canadian Army Pay Corps were drawn up for inspection. The chief of general staff expressed his pleasure at the appearance of the local forces and complimented all ranks. In the afternoon Major-General MacBrien visited the naval drydock and conferred briefly with the officers commanding active militia here.
